Bible-Based Christianity – A Short Course on how to become a Christian.

Introduction

God wants people to believe in Him and follow His ways. In the Bible we read His message to us,

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him"
John 3:16-17.

God showed His love and commitment to saving us by giving us His son!

God wants all men and women to turn to him and be saved. We read this in 1 Timothy 2:3-4,

"This is good and pleases God our Saviour, who wants all men to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth".

In order to be saved, there are certain things that a Christian needs to know and do. This is what this course is about. It tells you what you need to know and do to be a Christian. The information comes only from the Bible. Many references will be given to prove what is being said. The course does not assume any previous knowledge of the Bible.

What we need to know

There are certain things that a Christian does need to know. We read of some of these in Acts 8:12,

"But when they believed Philip as he proclaimed the good news of the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women."

Christians need to know about the Kingdom of God and about Jesus Christ. And they need to know about baptism. Baptism is the starting point of being a Christian, and it comes after someone had learnt what it means to be a Christian.

Christians need to know about the Kingdom of God and Jesus Christ. These are main headings of what we need to know, but there are other teachings under these headings. The teaching about Jesus Christ includes other things such as those mentioned in the book of Hebrews. Here the writer helped the readers remember what they had learnt about Jesus,

"Therefore, let us move beyond the elementary teachings about Christ and be taken forward to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death, and of faith in God, instruction about cleansing rites, the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment" (Hebrews 6:1-2).

The writer did not want to 'lay again' – that is, teach again - the basic teachings they had learnt about Jesus. This was because they were already Christians and should remember them. The passage tells us some of these basic teachings – repentance, faith, baptism, the laying-on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment.

This course teaches the basic teachings of Jesus Christ and the Kingdom of God. These are the fundamental teachings that a Christian needs to know.

What we need to do

Learning knowledge is not enough to be a Christian. Consider the case of someone who knows all the teachings but continues to blaspheme, steal, and hate everyone. That person is not a real Christian.

A real Christian is one who lives by the teachings they have learnt. They put into practice the behaviours expected from being a Christian.

Being a Christian is like being a carpenter. It is not enough to know what a carpenter should know and how to make things from wood. A carpenter is only a carpenter if they do make things from wood. In the same way, a Christian is not a Christian just by knowing what a Christian should know. They are a Christian only if they behave like a Christian.

Christianity is a practical subject. It must be lived. James says,

"Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says"
(James 1:22).

A true Christian lives like one,

"Dear children, let us not love with words or speech but with actions in truth" (1 John 3:18).

Here, the title 'children' means 'children of God,' who are adult believers who follow the words of God. It is no good being able to teach others if we cannot live by the teaching ourselves.

The Short Bible Based Christianity Course

The full course had 30 lessons plus some extra comments. However, not all of this essential to teach for being ready for baptism. In some circumstances, such as where there is a need for translation, it is easier to follow this shorter course, which contains 24 lessons. If you would prefer the longer course, then it is available from the same sources as this one.

The course starts with a lesson on the Bible, which is the source of information. It is followed by two lessons about the general contents of the Bible, so that those who are new to the Bible can gain a general understanding. There follows a series on the original gospel message as taught by Jesus and the disciples. Then there are the topics of man, God, and Jesus. The course ends with practical matters and advice on the next steps.

The titles of the lessons are given below:

You will find a summary of the main points learnt at the end of each lesson, as well as questions to help you check your understanding. If you have a tutor, then the tutor will be able to check your answers. They will be able to answer any of your own questions.

If you are reading this alone, you have the advantage that you can go through the lessons at your own pace. Asking questions and receiving answers is a good way to learn.

Doing the course alone has the disadvantage of not being able to ask someone your questions. In this case, we suggest you write down any questions you have, so that these can be answered later.

The main Bible references have been written out in full and come from the New International Version of the Bible. This enables you to follow the lessons without a Bible. However, it is important that you understand that the information comes from the Bible.

Reading the Bible and learning its message is what God wants us to do. We recommend that you make this the priority in your life, because Jesus told us,

"But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well" (Matthew 6:33).

If we put the right things first, then God will look after us in our lives.

Lesson 1: The Bible

The Bible is the most read book in the world. And it is not hard to see why. It says that it comes from God Himself. We read this in 2 Timothy 3:15-17:

"and how from infancy you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the servant of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work."

All Scripture is "God-breathed". That is, God breathed out the words. The words of the Bible come from God Himself. It is where God tells us what He wants us to know. From the Bible,

- We can get our teaching – what to believe.
- It can rebuke us – it can tell us when we are wrong.
- It can correct us – it can put us right.
- It can train us to be righteous, which means we can be right with God.

By doing this, it can make us "wise for salvation". That is, it can give us wisdom that can save our life. Now that makes listening to the Bible very important!

If a doctor told us to follow certain instructions to save us from death, we would be very careful to make sure we followed the instructions. It is the same with the Bible. We must be very careful to follow its instructions so that we can be saved.

How was the Bible written?

The words of the Bible were breathed out by God. God gave His words to the writers, and they wrote down God's words. Peter explained what happened,

"Above all, you must understand that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet's own interpretation of things. For prophecy never had its origin in the human will, but prophets, though human, spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit" (2 Peter 1:20-21).

This is supported by the words of Hebrews,

"In the past God spoke to our ancestors through the prophets at many times and in various ways" (Hebrews 1:1).

God's message in the Old Testament was written by the prophets who wrote down God's words. God's message in the New Testament was written by apostles and prophets.

It is important that we understand that the Bible is God's message. We read this in 1 Thessalonians 2:13,

"And we also thank God continually because, when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as a human word, but as it actually is, the word of God, which is indeed at work in you who believe".

When we read the Bible we should not think it is the word of the human person who wrote down the words. The words are from God. The letters of Peter come from God. The letters of Paul to the Thessalonians come from God. The Book of Genesis comes from God.

No other book in the world is like the Bible. We cannot find God's message to mankind anywhere else.

Faith

When we read a book, we learn about the author. We learn whether they are talking sense. If they do not, we stop reading. We learn about what is important to them. If we are not interested in this, then we also stop reading.

As you read the Bible, you will learn that the Bible makes sense. You will learn that it is so wise and deep that the Bible cannot have been written by man. You will learn to trust it and you will put your faith in it. As it says,

"Faith comes from hearing the message, and the message is heard through the word about Christ" (Romans 10:17).

Reading the Bible helps us develop faith in it. If we already have faith, then reading will strengthen our faith. The Bible was written to help us have faith,

"But these are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name" (John 20:31).

The Bible was written over 1500 years, by 40 different writers, in 3 languages and in different countries. If it was written by men, then there would be confusion as the different writers expressed different opinions on difficult topics. But the Bible is consistent and harmonious because it was written by one author – God.

There is historical evidence to show that the Bible is old and accurate. There is archaeological evidence to show that the names, places and events in the Bible really happened.

Faith is important. We are told,

"And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him" (Hebrews 11:6).

Faith is essential if we want to be a Christian. If we do not have faith, then we must start reading the Bible and develop a faith.

What the Bible do for us

The Bible can save our lives. But it can do more than that. We are told,

"The law of the Lord is perfect, refreshing the soul.

The statutes of the Lord are trustworthy, making wise the simple.

The precepts of the Lord are right, giving joy to the heart.

The commands of the Lord are radiant, giving light to the eyes."

(Psalm 19:7-8)

The Bible can revive us. It can make us wise. It can give us joy. It can give us light. Given that it can do all those things, we should read the Bible regularly.

If you do not have a Bible, you should get one and read it daily. We should protect our Bible in a bag or box, so that it lasts a long time. If you know of someone who cannot read but wants to hear God's message, then you should consider reading it to them.

It is good to use a pencil to underline the important verses and make a note of other relevant Bible passages. This will help us remember the important points.

The content of the Bible

The Bible is like a library with 2 parts:

- 1) The Old Testament has 39 books.
- 2) The New Testament has 27 books.

About 77% of the Bible is Old Testament and 23% is New Testament.

The Old Testament covers the God's relationship with His people, the Jews. It covers the time from creation to the last book Malachi. It includes the following:

1. The first 5 books of Moses. This contains creation, the origin of God's people and the Law of Moses.
2. History from Joshua (who succeeded Moses) to the end of the Old Testament. This is the time of Judges and Kings. It covers the exile of Israel and the regathering at the time of Ezra and Nehemiah.
3. The books of Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and Song of Solomon. These are the books of wisdom.
4. The prophets. These contain God's message to Israel at particular times.

The New Testament covers the life of Jesus and his followers. It is how the gospel message went from Jerusalem to all nations. The gospel went from being a faith that was Jewish to one that was for all nations.

The centre of God's plan with mankind is Jesus. Jesus was predicted throughout the Old Testament. As Jesus said,

"And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself" (Luke 24:27).

Unfortunately, many Christians today do not read the Old Testament. There are a number of problems with this:

- 1) They miss out on so much detail about Jesus.
- 2) The Bible used by Jesus was only the Old Testament, as the New Testament had not been written. Jesus based his life and teaching on the Old Testament.
- 3) The New Testament is based on the Old Testament. We cannot fully understand the New Testament unless we understand the Old.
- 4) The teaching of the Old Testament confirms the teaching of the New. We can check that the two are consistent. We can use this to check that our teaching is based on the whole Bible.

The Language of the Bible

The Bible was not written in a modern day language. The Old Testament was written in old Hebrew and some Aramaic. The New Testament was written in old Greek. Since these languages are not understood by most people today, we must rely on translations.

No translation is perfect. Part of this is because all languages express ideas differently. Part is also because the translation may not translate accurately. All translations lose some of the original meaning when they translate.

We need to be careful in our choice of Bible translation. If there is a choice, then we need to choose one that is the most accurate that we are able to read.

In most cases, the translation does not affect our understanding on important points. But where the point is important, we need to check with the original text. This has been done in compiling this course.

There are many teachers who teach different things. Not all teachers can be right. How do we make sure that we learn what is true teaching rather than the opinion of men? The answer is that we need to check with Scripture. In Acts 17:11 we read:

"Now the Berean Jews were of more noble character than those in Thessalonica, for they received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true."

The people at Berea did not believe the words of even the apostle Paul until they first checked what he said with the Bible. We must do the same. We must check the words of teachers with the Bible. This is why we give many quotations from the Bible to prove what we are saying. It enables readers to check whether what we are saying is true.

Reading the Bible

God expects us to feed on the Bible as if it is our food. Just as we make sure we eat regularly, so we should make sure we feed regularly on the Bible. The Bible is likened to food in Hebrews 5:12-13:

"In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God's word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness."

The basic truths of God's word are like milk. Those who are new to the Bible are those who feed on milk. As they learn the basic teachings of the Bible, they grow spiritually on this milk.

Once they have grown on the milk, then they are able to learn the solid food of God's word. The solid food is the other teachings. Whether we are on milk or solid food, we need to feed on the Bible. We need to read the Bible, as this is the only way we will grow.

It is difficult to read the Bible as like a story from beginning to end. This is because there are complex parts that need explanation in order to learn from them. For example, the details of the Tabernacle will occur at the end of the second book, Exodus. This is hard to understand and needs explanation. Then at the start of the third book, Leviticus, it speaks about animal sacrifices under the Law of Moses. This is also hard to understand and it too needs explanation. It is recommended that you start reading the Bible with a Bible reading plan for new readers which you can get from your tutor.

The Bible has God's wisdom which we can learn from. If we use it to direct our lives, then we will be blessed in this life and in the future life.

We read this in Proverbs 1:2-6 the benefits of God's word,

*"for gaining wisdom and instruction;
For understanding words of insight;
For receiving instruction in prudent behaviour,
Doing what is right and just and fair;
For giving prudence to those who are simple,
Knowledge and discretion to the young-
Let the wise listen and add to their learning,
And let the discerning get guidance -
For understanding proverbs and parables,
The sayings and riddles of the wise."*

Doing what the Bible says

It is not enough to get a good knowledge of the Bible. This will not save us from death. We must do what it says.

Jesus gave a parable to explain this. This is the parable of the house on the rock and the house on the sand found in Matthew 7:24-27:

"Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash."

Those who read the Bible are like builders who build a house.

We are all builders. The question is where are we going to build our house? If we just learn God's teaching but do not do it, we are like a foolish man whose life will crash around him. If we learn God's teaching and put it into practice, then our life will stand the test and it will save us from death.

Lesson 2: An Overview of the Bible Message

The Bible is a large book and it is hard to read it all. What we will do in this lesson is to look at the beginning and the ending. This will help us understand the overall story. As we go, we will learn about some of the main events.

The Beginning

The Bible begins with the words,

"In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. Now the earth was formless and empty, darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the spirit of God was hovering over the waters" (Genesis 1:1-2).

When God made the earth, it was originally formless, empty and dark. It had water over its surface and there was no land visible. This changed by the end of the first week. Instead of being formless, there was land. Instead of emptiness, there were creatures filling it. Instead of darkness, there was light.

In the first week, God made the environment suitable for life and then He filled it with life. This took 6 days. God rested on the 7th day.

We can look at what God has made and we see how well made it is. This is evidence that there is a God. Mankind should think about these things,

"For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities – his eternal power and divine nature – have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that people are without excuse" (Romans 1:20).

God is invisible. But we can see evidence of Him in the things around us. We can have faith in God because we see what He has made. We can then respond like David did,

"How many are your works, Lord! In wisdom you made them all; the earth is full of your creatures" (Psalm 104:24).

Mankind

Mankind was the last thing that God made,

"Then God said, "Let us make mankind in our image, in our likeness, so that they may rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky, over the livestock and all the wild animals, and over all the creatures that move along the ground." So God blessed mankind in his own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them" (Genesis 1:26-27).

Of all things made by God, only man was made in the image of God.

God made man first and then He made woman from the side of man. The first man was called Adam and the first woman was called Eve.

God gave mankind a special position,

"God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish in the sea and the birds in the sky and over every living creature that moves on the ground. Then God said, "I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food. And to all the beasts of the earth and all the birds in the sky and all the creatures that move along the ground – everything that has the breath of life in it – I give every green plant for food.” And it was so” (Genesis 1:28-30).

Mankind was to rule over God’s creation. The word ‘rule’ often makes people think of ruling selfishly and harshly. But God never intended rulers to rule like this. Man was to be more like a shepherd, caring for God’s creatures. He was to be more like a gardener, caring for the plants.

God made a garden and put mankind in it,

“Now the Lord God had planted a garden in the east, in Eden; and there he put the man he had formed. The Lord God made all kinds of trees grow out of the ground – trees that were pleasing to the eye and good for food. In the middle of the garden were the tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil” (Genesis 2:8-9).

God gave mankind a job to do in this garden and He gave Him one command,

“The Lord God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to work it and take care of it. And the Lord God commanded the man, “You are free to eat from any tree in the garden; but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for when you eat from it you will certainly die.” (Genesis 2:15-17).

Man was not to eat of one tree. All was well for a while, but then it went wrong,

“When the woman saw that the fruit of the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eye, and also desirable for gaining wisdom, she took some and ate it. She also gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it.” (Genesis 3:6).

Man and woman ate the fruit of the tree they had been commanded not to eat of. They broke the command of God. As a result they were banished from the garden and punished with the sentence of death. Mankind could no longer live God.

This was the end of the beginning. The story of man and His God had started with great opportunities. But man disobeyed his Maker and this created a barrier between them.

The end

We will now go to the end of the Bible and see how it ends. There we find some of the features that were there at the beginning. For example, we read of trees and a river,

“Then the angel showed me the river of the water of life, as clear as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb down the middle of the great street of the city. On each side of the river stood the tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, yielding its fruit every month” (Revelation 22:1-2).

We also read about features of the creation story, such as light and sea. But there are also differences:

- Instead of just one man and woman, there is a whole city of people.
- Instead of disobedience and death, there is a people who obey and do not die.
- Instead of man living with God with the possibility of disobedience, man lives with God permanently without this possibility.

The difference between the beginning and the end is what God has achieved during the Bible. He does achieve His purpose of living with man. God solved the problem of disobedience.

At the end of the Bible, the original creation has been replaced by a 'new creation'. This new creation is a better than the old because it has obedient people in it. It is what God wanted from the beginning. We are told,

"what counts is the new creation" (Galatians 6:15).

The Problem of Man's Disobedience

Let us now go back to Adam and Eve and see what happened next. In Genesis chapter 4, we learn that they had a family. They had two sons – Cain and Abel. Abel followed God's ways but Cain did not. Cain killed Abel. This caused God to punish Cain and he was banished. We have the same pattern which we saw with Adam and Eve,

- God gave man a command.
- Man chose to disobey.
- God punished man and banished him.

The family of Adam multiplied and filled the earth. But history repeated itself. The descendants of Adam became violent like Cain. So God punished the world by sending the flood and destroying them. This was a banishment from the earth.

God started again with Noah and his family. He saved them and the animals with a boat. But the same problems started to recur after the flood. By Genesis 11, the people had rebelled against God and built the tower of Babel. This was an attempt to break away from God. God punished mankind by giving them different languages so they were no longer united against God. They were banished throughout the world.

We have a repeated pattern throughout the Bible.

- God gave mankind His commands to see if they would keep them.
- Man chose not to.
- God punished man and banished him.

It is a sad story. But God did not make mankind so He could punish them. He wanted to bless them. We learn this with the life of a man called Abraham.

Abraham

From Genesis 12, the Bible concentrates on one man and his family - Abraham (formerly called Abram). God wanted to bless mankind through Abraham and his family,

"The Lord had said to Abram, "Go from your country, your people and your father's household to the land I will show you. "I will make you into a great nation, and I will bless you; I will make your name great, and you will be a blessing. I will bless those who bless you, and whoever curses you I will curse; and all the peoples on earth will be blessed through you"" (Genesis 12:1-3).

The family of Abraham continued through his son Isaac and grandson Jacob. Jacob's name was changed to 'Israel' and his family were called 'Israelites'. The Israelites went down to live in Egypt to avoid famine. After many years they were made slaves.

God saved the Israelites by a man called Moses. God said to the Israelites,

"You yourselves have seen what I did to Egypt, and how I carried you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself. Now if you obey me fully and keep my covenant, then out of all nations you will be my treasured possession. Although the whole earth is mine, you will be for me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation" (Exodus 19:4-6).

Israel was to be God's special nation in God's special land. God wanted them to obey His commands, and if they did so, God would bless them.

Unfortunately, the Israelites generally did not follow God's commands. The pattern of disobedience and punishment continued. God sent prophets to get them to warn them of punishment so that they changed their ways. This was ultimately unsuccessful. Israel was banished from God's land. They were taken away by the Assyrians and the Babylonians.

Jesus

This brings us to the time of Jesus. When Jesus came, he taught the people of Israel about the future blessings of God. Jesus tried to get the people of Israel to keep the commands of God, but they did not listen. They killed Jesus. Within a generation, God punished them and banished from the land again. This time they were banished by the Romans. The pattern of disobedience had continued.

It looked like nothing had changed with Jesus. But it had changed. Unlike all other men, Jesus fully obeyed God's commands. He never once disobeyed. His obedience led to blessing.

- Jesus did die. But God raised him from the dead and gave him eternal life.
- Jesus was not banished from God but went to live with Him in heaven.

Jesus was the only one who was fit to rule over creation. The pattern of testing, disobedience and punishment had come to an end with Jesus.

What is surprising and wonderful is that the benefits of this are not only for Jesus. All those who come to Jesus can benefit from his life and death!

"For just as through the disobedience of the one man (Adam) the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of one man (Jesus) the many will be made righteous" (Romans 5:19).

"For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive" (1 Corinthians 15:22).

Christians will die. But any disobedience can be forgiven if they come to Jesus and follow him. This means that,

- True Christians too will be raised from the dead and given eternal life.
- True Christians will be gathered to be with Jesus - not banished.
- True Christians will be brought to God's land and blessed through the work of Jesus. They are the ones to rule over creation.

God has a plan that has broken the pattern of disobedience by man. It is a plan of saving - not punishing. It all depends on Jesus. It is wonderful!

Lesson 3: Are you ready for the Kingdom of God?

Part 1 – The original Gospel Message

The message of Jesus was one of the future blessings that God would bring. This would bring about the time described at the end of the Bible. The original gospel message was the coming of the kingdom of God!

"Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in the synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and illness among the people"
(Matthew 4:23).

The kingdom of God was coming. The people needed to be ready for it.

Jesus told his 12 disciples to teach the same message,

"As you go, proclaim this message: "The kingdom of heaven has come near""
(Matthew 10:7).

When Jesus rose from the dead, he has the same message,

"After his suffering, he presented himself to them and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of 40 days and spoke about the kingdom of God" (Acts 1:3).

The kingdom was the message of Jesus. He taught that the kingdom of God is coming and this requires a response. The question for all of us is, "Are you ready for the kingdom of God?"

Before we address this question, we will learn more about the kingdom of God.

Today's World

Our world has big problems. Consider the following:

- Extreme poverty
- Crime
- Famine and changing weather patterns
- Disease and disability
- Injustice
- War
- Oppression
- Ignorance

No man can solve these problems. They can reduce them, but they cannot solve them.

God has a solution for all these problems. The solution is the kingdom of God. This is why it is good news for people.

Pictures of the Kingdom of God

The Bible gives us pictures of what the kingdom of God will be like.

1. Isaiah 2:2-4

"In the last days the mountain of the Lord's temple will be established as the highest of the mountains; it will be exalted above the hills, and all nations will stream to it. Many peoples will come and say, 'Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the temple of the God of Jacob. He will teach us his ways, so that we may walk in his paths.’ The law will go out from Zion, the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. He will judge between the nations and will settle disputes for many peoples. They will beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation will not take up sword against nation, nor will they train for war any more”.

This teaches:

- There will be a temple in Jerusalem.
- People from all nations will visit this temple.
- God’s word and law will be given from this temple.
- He will judge between the nations and solve disputes.
- The result will be peace among the nations. There will be no war, no armies and no weapons. They will not learn how to fight.

2. Isaiah 11:3-9

“He will not judge by what he sees with his eyes, or decide by what he hears with his ears; but with righteousness he will judge the needy, with justice he will give decisions for the poor of the earth. He will strike the earth with the rod of his mouth; with the breath of his lips he will slay the wicked. Righteousness will be his belt and faithfulness the sash round his waist. The wolf will live with the lamb, the leopard will lie down with the goat, the calf and the lion and the yearling together; and a little child will lead them. The cow will feed with the bear, their young will lie down together, and the lion will eat straw like the ox. The infant will play near the cobra’s den, and the young child will put its hand into the viper’s nest. They will not harm nor destroy on all my holy mountain, for the earth shall be full with the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea”.

This teaches:

- There will be true justice, especially for the poor.
- The wicked will be punished.
- It will be a time of righteousness and faithfulness.
- There will be peace even among the animals.
- The earth will be full of the knowledge of God.

3. Isaiah 35:5-10

“Then will the eyes of the blind be opened and the ears of the deaf unstopped. Then will the lame leap like a deer, and the mute tongue shout for joy. Water will gush forth in the wilderness and streams in the desert. The burning sand will become a pool, the thirsty ground bubbling springs. In the haunts where jackals once lay, grass and reeds and papyrus will grow. And a highway will be there; it will be called the Way of Holiness; it will be for those who walk on that Way. The unclean will not journey on it; wicked fools will not go about on it. No lion will be there, nor any ravenous beast; they will not be found there. Only the redeemed of the Lord will walk there and those the Lord has rescued will return. They will enter Zion with singing; everlasting joy will crown their heads. Gladness and joy will overtake them, and sorrow and sighing will flee away”.

This teaches:

- There will be healing for the sick and disabled.
- The deserts will have water.
- There is a road for the holy people to travel to Zion (Jerusalem).
- The unclean and wicked will not go to Jerusalem.
- At Jerusalem there will be joy and happiness and singing.
- There will be no more sorrow for the righteous.

4. Isaiah 65:17-25

"See, I will create new heavens and a new earth. The former things will not be remembered, nor will they come to mind. But be glad and rejoice for ever in what I will create, for I will create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people a joy. I will rejoice for ever in what I will create, for I will create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people a joy. I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in my people; the sound of weeping and of crying will be heard in it no more. Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years; the one who dies at a hundred will be thought a mere child; the one who fails to reach a hundred will be considered accursed. They will build houses and dwell in them; they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit. No longer will they build houses and others live in them, or plant and others eat. For as the days of a tree, so will be the days of my people; my chosen ones will long enjoy the work of their hands. They will not labour in vain, nor will they bear children doomed to misfortune; for they will be a people blessed by the Lord, they and their descendants with them. Before they call I will answer; while they are still speaking I will hear. The wolf and the lamb will feed together, and the lion will eat straw like the ox, and dust will be the serpent's food. They will neither harm nor destroy on all my holy mountain. Says the Lord".

This teaches:

- There will be a new heaven and a new earth.
- The sadness of the old heaven and earth will not be remembered.
- There will be joy based around Jerusalem.
- The people will be blessed with long life and own their own houses and land.
- God will answer their prayers before they are asked.
- There will be peace among the animals.
- There will be no destruction on God's holy mountain (ie Jerusalem).

The fact that there will be a new heaven and new earth does not mean that the current physical heaven and earth will be replaced. What it does mean that the order of human rulership (the heavens) and people ruled (the earth) will be replaced. The fact that people are called 'heaven and earth' in the Bible is found in Deuteronomy 32:1 and Isaiah 1:2. The heaven and earth were replaced previously at the time of Noah when "the world of that time was deluged and destroyed" (2 Peter 3:6). The world itself was not destroyed, but the people on it were.

These quotations above teach us that the Kingdom of God will be a literal place. Many of the problems of man will have been reduced or even solved completely:

- Disease and Disability cured. Death of the young stopped. Long life for people.
- The formation of deserts solved so that famine is solved.

- Warfare solved.
- Enforced justice. Removal of crime and oppression.
- Dangerous animals solved.
- Ignorance of God reduced and eventually solved.

The kingdom of God is the answer to our own personal problems and to the problems of the world. If we sometimes despair over the world today, then cheer up, because God has a solution for the problems. If you despair over the difficulties of your own life, then cheer up, because God has a solution to your own personal problems. This is why the Kingdom of God is 'good news'. It is good news for us and good news for the world.

The Millenium

The picture we have of the kingdom is the first part of the kingdom. This is the first thousand years, which is called the 'Millenium'. The faithful will help Jesus in ruling in the Millenium,

"They came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years" (Revelation 20:4).

During this period, the problems of man will be removed. Jesus will ensure that all enemies of God are destroyed,

"For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death" (1 Corinthians 15:25-26).

The last enemy to be destroyed is death. This means that even death itself will be removed! If death is destroyed, it means that people can live for ever.

This is the time of the end of the Bible,

"Then the end will come, when he hands over the kingdom to God the Father after he has destroyed all dominion, authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy that to be destroyed is death. For he 'has put everything under his feet'. Now when it says that 'everything' has been put under him, it is clear that this does not include God himself, who put everything under Christ. When he has done this, then the Son himself will be made subject to him who put everything under him, so that God may be all in all" (1 Corinthians 15:24-28).

At the end of the Millenium, Jesus will hand the kingdom over to God,

"When he has done this, then the Son himself will be made subject to him who put everything under him, so that God may be all in all" (1 Corinthians 15:28).

In the final stage, all the problems of the world have been solved. Death is no more. The wicked are no more. This second stage is described in Revelation:

"Then I saw 'a new heaven and a new earth', for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, 'Look! God's dwelling-place is now among the people, and God himself will be with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. "He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death" or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away" Revelation 21:1-4.

This teaches:

- There is no more death.
- There will be no more crying.
- Everything will be new.
- This plan is centred on the city of Jerusalem.
- The people will know God.
- The people of God will have been made beautiful like a bride.
- God will come down and live with man on earth.
- There will be a feast.

In the end, Jesus will have removed all sin and death from the earth. This means that God and man can live together at last. What a wonderful hope!

We started with the question, Are you ready for the kingdom of God? We will learn what it means to be ready in the next lesson.

Lesson 4: Are you ready for the Kingdom of God?

Part 2 – Repentance and Baptism

Repentance

There is no automatic entrance into the kingdom of God. Everyone is invited to prepare for this time in order to be ready for the kingdom.

Jesus taught the people that they must repent before the kingdom comes,

"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near" (Matthew 4:17).

Repentance means to change of one's mind and to change one's ways. Put simply, repentance means to change. If one is doing evil, then repentance means to stop doing evil. True repentance is always demonstrated by a change in behaviour. When the Pharisees and Sadducees came to John the Baptist, John told them,

"Produce fruit in keeping with repentance" (Matthew 3:7-8).

The fruit that John was referring to was the deeds of the Pharisees and Sadducees. John was concerned that they would not change and so would not truly repent.

We all need to prove our repentance by showing that our behaviour has changed. As the apostle Paul said,

"I preached that they should repent and turn to God and prove their repentance by their deeds" (Acts 26:20).

True repentance comes with a blessing. If one really turns from the old ways and follows Christ, then God is willing to forgive us of all our past mistakes and acts of disobedience. No matter how bad, we can find forgiveness.

This is demonstrated by the forgiveness of prostitutes and tax collectors, some of whom became Jesus' closest disciples. This is such a wonderful and merciful offer that we would be foolish not to accept. However, if we do not change our ways and stop disobeying God, then God will not forgive us.

For those who do repent and turn from evil, there is joy in heaven,

"I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent" (Luke 15:7).

God wants all people to come to repentance,

"The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some understand slowness. Instead he is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9).

We cannot enter the kingdom of God as someone who disobeys God. The Kingdom of God is not a place where disobedience is welcome. It is not a place where evil can exist in fellowship with God. Jesus said,

"The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will weed out of his kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil" (Matthew 13:41).

Sinners must stop sinning if they are to be in the kingdom of God. We must all stop our evil ways if we are to enter the Kingdom.

The kingdom of God will be a place where evil doers and sinners have been removed. This is one reason why the kingdom will be such a good place.

Baptism

In order to show our repentance, Jesus requires us to be baptized. Baptism is a demonstration that we have changed from our old ways and now follow the ways of God. Jesus taught his disciples to be baptized. Peter told the people at Pentecost, after speaking about the promise of the kingdom,

"Repent and be baptised, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins" (Acts 2:38).

All of us are required to be baptized to show our repentance and to wash away our sins. Sin is the breaking of the commands of God which God remembers unless He forgives.

Baptism is not an option. We will not have our sins forgiven if we do not get baptised. We cannot enter the kingdom of God unless we are baptised. Jesus said,

"I tell you the truth, no one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again. 'How can someone be born when they are old?' Nicodemus asked; 'surely they cannot enter a second time into their mother's womb to be born!' I tell you the truth, no-one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born of water and the spirit" (John 3:3,5).

When it speaks of being born of water, it refers to baptism in water. Baptism is a symbolic rebirth in water. We must no longer remain a child of the world, but we must be born as a child of God. If we are not baptized, then we are not reborn as a child of God. And we must truly change. Being baptised will not get us into the kingdom of God unless we change our spirit. Here the word spirit means our personality or character.

Baptism occurs after someone is taught about the kingdom and Jesus Christ,

"when they believed Philip as he proclaimed the good news of the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women" (Acts 8:12).

The apostle Paul also taught these things,

"He proclaimed the kingdom of God and taught about the Lord Jesus Christ" (Acts 28:31).

Believers must believe in the message of the kingdom of God and about Jesus Christ. In the examples of baptism, there was the teaching first. Then, when the message was believed, there was baptism. Baptism was a response to the teaching.

A good example of this is the response of the Ethiopian (Acts 8:26-39). Baptism takes place where there is a lot of water because baptism requires full immersion in water (Acts 8:36, John 3:23). They went down into the water (Acts 8:38) and then came up out of the water (Acts 8:39). The whole body was covered with water.

Full immersion in water is required because baptism is a washing away of sins,

"this water symbolises baptism that now saves you also – not the removal of dirt from the body but the pledge of a clear conscience toward God" (1 Peter 3:21).

One does not wash a body by only washing part of it. The whole body must be washed in order to make it clean.

Baptism symbolizes the death and resurrection of Jesus,

"Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life" (Romans 6:3-4).

When one goes into the water, one acts out the death and burial of Jesus. And when one comes up out of the water, one acts out the resurrection of Jesus. Full immersion in water is required in order to symbolize the death and resurrection of Jesus. One does not partly bury a body at death – it needs to be fully covered.

The Christian practice of christening cannot be found in the Bible. It does not involve full immersion. It does not involve repentance of sins. It does not involve knowledge of the kingdom and Jesus Christ. Christening is not Bible baptism.

It is important that we believe the right things before baptism. In Acts 19:1-7 we read of 12 men who had to be re-baptised because they had the insufficient knowledge about Jesus. It is important that we respond to the message of the Kingdom of God and Jesus Christ in the right way.

- 1) We need the correct understanding and to believe it,
- 2) We need to repent and change our ways,
- 3) We need to be baptised,
- 4) We must live our life in the way Jesus lived his.

Lesson 5: Are you ready for the Kingdom of God?

Part 3 – Where will the Kingdom of God be?

The fact that the kingdom of God will be on earth is famously taught by the Lord's prayer, it says,

"Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven" (Matthew 6:9-10).

The kingdom will come to the earth and God's will is done on earth. The kingdom will be on earth.

The teaching of the return of Jesus to the earth means that Jesus is coming to the earth rather than remaining in heaven. As the angels told the disciples;

"This same Jesus, who has been taken up from you into heaven, will come back in the same way as you have seen him go into heaven" (Acts 1:11).

Jesus is coming from heaven back to the earth to set up the kingdom.

Here are a number of other passages which teach that the kingdom of God will be on earth. Some of these teach that the kingdom of God will replace the kingdoms of man on earth.

"You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to serve our God, and they will reign on the earth" (Revelation 5:10).

"The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Messiah, and he will reign for ever and ever" (Revelation 11:15).

"Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth" (Matthew 5:5).

"Those the Lord blesses will inherit the land, but those he curses will be destroyed" (Psalm 37:22).

"The highest heaven belong to the Lord, but the earth he has given to mankind" (Psalm 115:16).

"In the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will it be left to another people. It will crush all those kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will itself endure for ever" (Daniel 2:44).

"Then the sovereignty, power and greatness of all the kingdoms under heaven will be handed over to the holy people of the Most High. His kingdom will be an everlasting kingdom, and all rulers will worship and obey him" (Daniel 7:27).

The earth has always been part of God's plan for the people of God. It was "formed it to be inhabited" (Isaiah 45:18). His ultimate plan with the earth is spoken of by the prophets,

"For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea" (Habakkuk 2:14).

The earth has not yet been filled with the knowledge of God, but it will do when the kingdom has been fully established.

Passages which seem to teach a kingdom in heaven but do not.

There are some passages that confuse people about the location of the kingdom of God. This has resulted in many people believing that the kingdom of God will be in heaven. These misunderstandings are discussed below.

1. The kingdom of God is called the 'kingdom of heaven' in the gospel of Matthew. We note that the kingdom is never called the 'kingdom in heaven'. It is the kingdom 'of' heaven. It is called the kingdom 'of heaven' because it is 'of God'. This is how the language is used in Matthew's gospel when speaking about the baptism of John,

"John's baptism – where did it come from? Was it from heaven, or of human origin?" (Matthew 21:25).

It was from God and not from man so it was called 'heavenly' rather than 'earthly'.

The kingdom of God is not like man's kingdoms. It is fundamentally different. It is a kingdom designed by God. This is what is meant when the faithful people; "were longing for a better country – a heavenly one" (Hebrews 11:16). They were looking forward to a godly kingdom rather than a worldly kingdom.

2. John 14:2 is said to teach us that Jesus is preparing a place for us in heaven, "My Father's house has many rooms; if that were not so, would I have told you that I am going there to prepare a place for you?" (John 14:2). However, the next verse explains this verse,

"And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am" (John 14:3).

Jesus is preparing a place for us now in heaven but is coming back in order to be with us. He will be with us when he comes back to the earth. The reward is being prepared in heaven (Matthew 5:12) but will be given when Christ comes to set up the kingdom on earth,

"For the Son of Man is going to come in his Father's glory with his angels, and then he will reward each person according to what he has done" (Matthew 16:27).

3. The prophet Enoch is supposed to have gone to heaven without dying. We read,

"By faith Enoch was taken from this life, so that he did not experience death: He could not be found, because God had taken him away. For before he was taken, he was commended as one who pleased God" (Hebrews 11:5).

However, we are told that Enoch died. In a verse which refers to all the people in the chapter before it, including Enoch, it says,

"All these people were still living by faith when they died. They did not receive the things promised" (Hebrews 11:13).

Enoch died and has not yet received the blessings of the righteous. It is a Bible teaching that man dies because of sin and so all men die (1 Corinthians 15:22).

The word used for 'taken' from this life in Hebrews 11:5 means 'transferred'. Enoch was transferred or transported from one place to another to save him from a deadly situation that he was in.

4. The prophet Elijah is supposed to have gone to heaven without dying. The description of Elijah going to heaven is given in 2 Kings 2:11,

"As they were walking along and talking together, suddenly a chariot of fire and horses of fire appeared and separated the two of them, and Elijah went up to heaven in a whirlwind".

Elijah went to heaven. However, heaven can mean the heaven of the birds (Genesis 1:20), the heaven of the stars (Genesis 1:15:16) or the heaven where God lives.

We can work out that Elijah went to the heaven of the birds. God often took Elijah from one place to another through the air, as Obadiah says,

"I don't know where the Spirit of the Lord may carry you when I leave. If I go and tell Ahab and he doesn't find you, he will kill me" (1 Kings 18:12).

After the events Elijah was found alive and wrote a letter to Jehoram (2 Chronicles 21:12). God had picked him up from one place with the chariot of fire and taken him to another place.

Elijah is included in the reference to "prophets" mentioned in Hebrews 11:32. These died without receiving the promises (Hebrews 11:39).

Elijah, like Enoch, was taken from one place to another by the spirit of God. This is a rare event, but it does happen. Philip was taken through the air when he was taken from the Ethiopian eunuch to Azotus (Acts 8:39-40). These people were transported through the air by God.

5. It is said that the thief on the cross went to heaven when he died. But this is not the case. Jesus said that the thief would be with Jesus in paradise (Luke 23:43). But Jesus went to the tomb that day and so the thief did not go to paradise. The thief died on the cross and awaits the return of Jesus to set up the kingdom.

We are told that no one has gone to heaven except Jesus,

"No one has ever gone to heaven except the one who came heaven – the Son of Man" (John 3:13).

This confirms that Enoch, Elijah and the thief did not go to heaven. And we are told specifically that David did not go to heaven,

"For David did not ascend to heaven" (Acts 2:34).

Lesson 6: Are you ready for the Kingdom of God?

Part 4 – When will the kingdom come?

This is the big question. The disciples asked Jesus this before Jesus went to heaven,

"Lord, are you at this time going to restore the kingdom to Israel?" (Acts 1:6).

In reply, Jesus said,

"It is not for you to know the times or dates the Father has set by his own authority" (Acts 1:7).

We are not to know the time or date when the kingdom will be established. In fact, only the Father has this information,

"But about the day or hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father" (Matthew 24:36).

If anyone claims to have this knowledge, do not believe them.

Following the question about when the kingdom will be set up, Jesus was taken up into heaven. As the disciples witnessed this, two angels said,

"Men of Galilee', they said, 'why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven'" (Acts 1:11).

Jesus will return. He will set up the kingdom when he returns,

"When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his glorious throne" (Matthew 25:31).

Because we do not know when Jesus will return, we must be ready all the time. The parable of the 10 virgins teaches this. They were waiting for the bridegroom, but the "bridegroom was a very long time coming" (Matthew 25:5). When the bridegroom arrived, 5 virgins were not ready. Jesus told the lesson of the parable; "Therefore, keep watch, because you do not know the day or the hour" (Matthew 25:13). We must learn the lesson and be ready for the return of Jesus.

The parable of the 10 talents (Matthew 25:14-30) was given because people thought that the kingdom of God was going to appear immediately. The parable teaches that the master went away for a long time and that the servants need to be ready for his return. In the parable, the master returned and found a lazy servant. Lazy servants are of no use to a master. He was thrown out. We must ensure that we are active in our faith, otherwise we will also be thrown out.

Teaching of the Kingdom in the New Testament Letters

The letters of the apostles tell us that evil doers will not be in the kingdom,

"Do you not know that the wrongdoers will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor men who have sex with men, nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God" (1 Corinthians 6:9-10).

"The acts of the flesh are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity and debauchery; idolatry and witchcraft; hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions, and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God" (Galatians 5:19-21).

"But among you there must not be even a hint of sexual immorality, or of any kind of impurity, or of greed, because these are improper for God's holy people. Nor should there be obscenity, foolish talk or coarse joking, which are out of place, but rather thanksgiving. For of this you can be sure: No immoral, impure or greedy person – such a man is an idolater – has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God" (Ephesians 5:3-5).

All these verses are consistent and clear. We know what is wrong and we should not do it. These things will exclude us from being in God's kingdom. God does not want His kingdom compromised by evil doers.

We must live as holy people if we are to be members of God's holy kingdom. We must make the kingdom the priority in our lives. We must give it our all.

Lesson 7: Temptation

What is Temptation?

We learnt about the problem of sin. Sin means disobedience to God's commands. In order to understand the topic of sin we need to understand temptation.

Temptation is a huge problem for mankind. If man gives in to temptation, it results in sin. And sin leads ultimately to death. This means that temptation leads to our death. Now that is definitely a problem for us.

We are told about this process of temptation leading to death in James 1:13-15:

"When tempted, no one should say, "God is tempting me". For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does he tempt anyone; but each person is tempted when they are dragged away by their own evil desire and enticed. Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death."

It starts with man's evil desires. We read, "Each person is tempted when they are dragged away by their own evil desire". These desires only become a problem when there is a state of temptation. If a person gives in to these temptations, then he commits sin. Temptation on its own is not sin. But it is a state where sin can easily occur.

We will all face temptations in our life,

"No temptation has overtaken you except what is common to mankind. And God is faithful; he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can endure it."
(1 Corinthians 10:13)

We all face similar temptations. God does not want us to give into these temptations. He will provide a way out. But while we are in the state of temptation, we must endure it patiently.

The Purpose of Temptation

If it only has potential to lead to sin, why are we tempted? Let us read from James,

"Consider it pure joy, my brothers and sisters, whenever you face trials of many kinds, because you know that the testing of your faith produces perseverance. Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything." (James 1:2-4)

The word here for 'trials' is the word for 'temptations.' If we endure temptations, then it shows we have perseverance. This enables us to become complete Christians. We need temptations in order to help us develop to spiritual maturity. This has a definite benefit for us. James 1:12 says:

"Blessed is the one who perseveres under trial because, having stood the test, that person will receive the crown of life that the Lord has promised to those who love him."

We will be tested by temptations, but if we stand the test there is a great reward. Peter puts it this way in 1 Peter 1:6-7:

"In all this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while you may have had to suffer grief in all kinds of trials. These have come so that the proven genuineness of your faith – of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire – may result in praise, glory and honour when Jesus Christ is revealed."

The word for 'trials' is again the word for 'temptations.' We will suffer with our temptations. But if we stand the test, then we are better than gold.

There are many types of gold. We only find out whether it is true gold by testing it. In the same way, God only finds out if we are really valuable if we stand the test.

Adam and Eve were tested. They were given the test of the tree of knowledge of good and evil. They were not to eat from it. We know what happened. They failed the test and gave into their temptation. They sinned, and later they died.

Both Adam and Eve tried to blame someone else for their failure. But God was not fooled. They sinned and so they were punished. God tells how Eve was tempted in Genesis 3:6:

"When the woman saw that the fruit of the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eye, and also desirable for gaining wisdom, she took some and ate it. She also gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it."

Eve was tempted by her own evil desires. She wanted good food. She liked the look of it. She wanted wisdom. She deliberately ate because she thought about the advantages to her.

It is true that the snake gave Eve the idea. But an idea is only an idea. The temptation was Eve's when she thought about eating the fruit. And the sin was Eve's.

We cannot blame our temptation on other people or things. Our temptations are ours alone. We must stand strong in the face of temptation and not give in to them.

Proverbs 1:10 advises us:

"My son, if sinful men entice you, do not give in to them."

Others will tempt us. We may find these temptations appealing. However, we must not give into them.

One of the 10 commandments tells us not to desire what does not belong to us,

"You shall not covet your neighbour's wife. You shall not set your desire on your neighbour's house or land, his male or female servant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbour" (Deuteronomy 5:21).

Adam and Eve took something that did not belong to them. Neither must we. We may desire something, but we should not give in to the temptation.

Jesus

There is only one person who managed to resist all temptation and never give into sin. This is Jesus. Jesus faced the same temptations as we do,

"For we do not have a high priest who is unable to empathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are – yet he did not sin" (Hebrews 4:15).

Jesus was "tempted in every way, just as we are". He was tempted like us because he was a man. He really knew what temptation was like. But unlike us, he stood the test.

The purpose of testing is to learn about the character of someone or something. This is why Jesus was led into the wilderness by the Spirit of God - to be tested. God wanted to know about the character of His son.

We are told that Jesus was tempted in the wilderness by the devil. Matthew 4:3 says,

"The tempter came to him and said, "If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread.""

The translation gives the impression that Jesus was tempted by another person. But we need to remember, that even if the idea comes from someone else, the actual temptation comes from inside the person. Jesus was hungry after fasting for 40 days, so he was tempted to turn the stones into bread.

The temptation was inside Jesus. Jesus recognized this himself. He spoke about where evil comes from in Matthew 15:18-19,

"But the things that come out of a person's mouth come from the heart, and these defile them. For out of the heart come evil thoughts – murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false testimony, slander."

The source of evil is the human heart inside a man. It does not come from outside. Even if someone else is giving us the idea, the temptation is inside a person's heart.

Our Battle against Temptation

We all face a battle inside ourselves,

"What causes fights and quarrels among you? Don't they come from your desires that battle within you?" (James 4:1).

It is a battle. In 1 Peter 2:11, Peter calls it a war,

"Dear friends, I urge you, as foreigners and exiles, to abstain from sinful desires, which wage war against your soul."

Like all battles, it is hard. We need to know our enemy. We need to avoid situations where our enemy can gain the upper hand. We must avoid situations where we are severely tempted. We must be on our guard at all times because our enemy can surprise us. When Jesus was being tempted severely, he told his disciples,

"Watch and pray so that you will not fall into temptation. The spirit is willing but the flesh is weak" (Matthew 26:41).

Disciples needed to be alert to temptation and pray for help. Jesus taught us how to use prayer to help us,

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one" (Matthew 6:13).

Jesus resisted his temptations by constantly being alert and using the help of prayer. Let us follow his example, so that we may resist our own temptations. We may not do this perfectly but with the help of God we can win our battle and obtain the victory. As is says in 1 Corinthians 15:57,

"But thanks be to God! He gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Lesson 8: Sin

Sin is a problem for everyone. The greatest problem from it is that it leads to death,

"For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

This is the ultimate cause of death. Yes, death may occur through disease or disaster, but the reason for death is sin.

The Bible is clear that all people sin, with the single exception of Jesus. It is because of our sin that we will die. This makes this talk on sin a life or death subject. It is important we know what it is and what to do about it.

When Adam and Eve sinned, it led to their death. It also led to their removal from the Garden of Eden and away from the presence of God. They lived outside the Garden and suffered pain from the curses God gave them. This is what sin does. It curses us. It denies us blessings. It separates us from God,

"For you are not a God who is pleased with wickedness; with you, evil people are not welcome. The arrogant cannot stand in your presence; you hate all who do wrong" (Psalm 5:4-5).

Those who sin cannot live in the presence of God. Neither do they get the blessings that come from closeness to God. Sinners will not live in the kingdom of God, because God does not live with sin. Sinners will not be given eternal life, because God does not want sinners sinning for ever.

Sin must be removed before man can live with God and before man can be given eternal life. Before we speak about the solution, let us first understand what sin is.

What is sin?

Sin is the breaking of the commands of God. We read in 1 John 3:4:

"Everyone who sins breaks the law; in fact, sin is lawlessness".

The law of God consists of a number of commands. When these are broken, then it is sin. When Adam and Eve ate of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, they broke God's command and sinned.

It is important that we know the commands of God, so that we avoid breaking the commands. If we are unaware of certain commands and break the command, it is still sin. We need to know the standard is that God requires us to live to, so that we avoid sin and live in the way that He wants.

We must learn God's commands from the Bible. As we read in Psalms 119:11:

"I have hidden your word in my heart that I might not sin against you."

Jesus did this when he was tempted in the wilderness. He was able to remember the commands of God so that he could avoid sin.

The Bible word for 'sin' means to 'miss the mark'. It carries the idea of missing the standard that God has set. A related word in the Bible carries the idea of twisting or bending the rules. Man is unfortunately good at missing the standard God wants, either by breaking the rules or by bending it. You might say that it comes naturally to man.

There is also another word for sin which is much worse. This is the word 'rebellion'. This is where the person deliberately avoids keeping the commands of God. He has rebelled against God and turned to a different path. He does not respect God or His laws and makes no attempt to be part of God's people. We understand what rebellion is when we think of rebels who rebel against the leadership of a country. Of course, rebels will have no place in the kingdom of God.

Removing Sin

Man, left to himself, sins and then he dies. He cannot solve this problem.

But God can. God proposed a way for man's sins to be forgiven. It is through the sacrifice of Jesus that sins can be forgiven. Speaking of his sacrifice, Jesus said,

"This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sin" (Matthew 26:28).

We cannot solve the problem of our own sin. We need to come to Jesus. We need to follow him and live like him, if we are to have our sins forgiven.

We cannot undo our sins. They have already been committed. We cannot change the past. Our past sins must be removed from God's record by God wiping them out. Peter tells us how to do this,

"Peter replied, "Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins"" (Acts 2:38).

Forgiveness of sins can be found with Jesus Christ if we repent and are baptised.

Saul was a sinner who helped kill believers. Jesus stopped Paul on a journey and said to him,

"And now what are you waiting for? Get up, be baptized and wash your sins away, calling on his name" (Acts 22:16).

The unfortunate thing is that baptism does not prevent us sinning in the future. Despite our best endeavours, we still sin. We are not rebels against God's commands, but we will sin.

In this case, we must call on God and use the name of Jesus. This is what Jesus taught us to do when he taught us how to pray to God,

"Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors" (Matthew 6:12).

When we sin after we are baptised, we must pray for forgiveness in the name of Jesus.

We note that there is a condition on our forgiveness. We must forgive those who are in debt to us – that is, those who have sinned against us. If we forgive them, then we will be forgiven. If we do not forgive, then we will not be forgiven. This is fair.

It is important that we do not cover up our sin. Sin is not hidden from God. Sin leads to problems in our lives. Sin can only be forgiven if it is admitted to, and forgiveness is sought. We read this in Psalm 32:5-6,

"Then I acknowledged my sin to you and did not cover up my iniquity. I said, "I will confess my transgressions to the Lord." And you forgave the guilt of my sin". Therefore let all the faithful pray to you while you may be found".

If we are to help sinners, the first thing we must do is make sure sin is acknowledged. Then we need to make sure they turn from their way of sin and seek the forgiveness that is available.

We started pointing out that sin causes death. It separates man from God and it brings a curse on the life of the sinner. The opposite is true if sin is removed. It causes life. It binds man back to God. It results in a blessing on the life of the repentant sinner.

God wants all of us to change and obtain life,

"But if a wicked man turns away from all the sins he has committed and keeps all my decrees and does what is just and right, that person will surely live; they will not die. None of the offences they have committed will be remembered against them. Because of the righteous things they have done, they will live. Do I have any pleasure in the death of the wicked? declares the Sovereign Lord. Rather, am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live?" (Ezekiel 18:21-23)

May we listen to God's appeal, turn from our own ways to the ways of God, be baptised and forgiven and live.

Lessons 9: Life and Death

Life comes from God. Nothing can live unless God gives it life.

God made the first man, Adam, and gave him life. This was a two-step process. First, God made Adam. Then God made him live. We read this in Genesis 2:7:

"Then the Lord God formed a man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and the man became a living being."

God made man from the dust. Man lay in the dust, but he did not live until God breathed into him the breath of life. Only then did man start to live and get up.

It is important to understand the origin of man, because we need to understand what man is, what life is and what death is. God makes it clear what man is in Genesis 3:19,

"By the sweat of your brow you will eat your food until you return to the ground, since from it you were taken; for dust you are and to dust you will return."

"For dust you are". Man is dust. That is all he is. At death he will return to it. He only has life because God gave him His breath.

In this respect, man is like the animals. Animals were made from the ground (Genesis 1:12) and have the breath of God giving them life (Genesis 1:30). They die in the same way,

"Surely the fate of human beings is like that of the animals; the same fate awaits them both: As one dies, so dies the other. All have the same breath, humans have no advantage over animals. Everything is meaningless. All go to the same place; all come from the dust, and to dust all return" (Ecclesiastes 3:19-20).

Both man and animals were made from the dust. They both live because of the breath of God. When they die both go back to the dust. Man lives and dies like the animals.

If God were to take away His breath from either man or animals, then they would die,

"When you hide your face, they are terrified; when you take away their breath, they die and return to the dust" (Psalm 104:29).

There is another term used to describe the breath of God. This is the 'spirit of God.' We see this in Job 33:4 where breath and spirit are used for the same thing,

"The Spirit of God has made me; the breath of the Almighty gives me life."

The same terms are also used in Job 34:14-15,

"If it were his intention and he withdrew his spirit and breath, all humanity would perish together and mankind would return to the dust."

It is the breath or the spirit that keeps man alive. If God takes this away then man dies.

Ecclesiastes 12:7 speaks about what happens at the death of man:

"and the dust returns to the ground it came from, and the spirit returns to God who gave it."

The spirit was God's spirit. At the end of man's life, God takes His spirit back. Man returns back to dust.

Let us summarise the process of life and death:

- God made man from the dust.
- But man was not living until God breathed into him the breath of life.
- Man lives because God gives man breath to live with.
- When man dies, the breath leaves man and returns to God. Then the dead body returns to the dust.

The State of the Dead

No part of man survives death. Death is the end of man's existence. He does not continue living after death.

Many parts of the Bible describe the life of man as only lasting a short time. He is like a mist that comes and goes (James 4:14). He is like the grass which grows up and then withers (James 1:10). He is like a shadow that goes down and disappears (Psalm 144:4), a cloud that is there one moment and gone the next (Job 7:9), a breeze that comes and goes (Psalm 78:39). Man does not have a continuing existence.

Death is the end of man,

"Anyone who is among the living has hope – even a live dog is better off than a dead lion! For the living know that they will die, but the dead know nothing; they have no further reward, and even their name is forgotten. Their love, their hate and their jealousy have long since vanished; never again will they have a part in anything that happens under the sun" (Ecclesiastes 9:4-6)

The dead "know nothing"! They are not loving or enjoying. They have ceased all life functions. They are dead. So, verse 10 of the same chapter has some advice for the living,

"Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might, for in the realm of the dead, where you are going, there is neither working nor planning nor knowledge nor wisdom" (Ecclesiastes 9:10)

We cannot do anything when we are dead. So, we must make the most of our life now.

The dead cannot even praise God,

"For the grave cannot praise you, death cannot sing your praise; those who go down to the pit cannot hope for your faithfulness" (Isaiah 38:18).

The dead are not praising God on clouds. They are dead. They are silent,

"It is not the dead who praise the Lord, those who go down to the place of silence" (Psalm 115:17).

Death is the destiny of all the living. It does not matter if one is good or bad. We all go to the same place.

"All share a common destiny – the righteous and the wicked, the good and the bad, the clean and the unclean, those who offer sacrifices and those who do not. As it is with the good, so with the sinful; as it is with those who take oaths, so with those who are afraid to take them. This is an evil in everything that happens under the sun. The same destiny overtakes all. The hearts of people, moreover, are full of evil and there is madness in their hearts while they live, and afterward they join the dead” (Ecclesiastes 9:2-3).

All die. David knew this. When he was close to dying, he said,

“I am about to go the way of all the earth” (1 Kings 2:2).

Is there an immortal soul?

There is an incorrect teaching about what happens at death. This comes from people who teach that there is an immortal soul. This is not a teaching that is taught in the Bible. It came from the ideas of Greek philosophers such as Plato (428-348 BC).

When the Bible uses the word ‘soul,’ it means the ‘life’ of a person or ‘person’ itself. There is nothing in the word that means it is immortal. Where the word is used, it has emotions like a person. It grieves (Job 30:25). It suffers (Isaiah 53:11). It rejoices (Psalm 35:9). It sins (Micah 6:7). It dies (Ezekiel 18:4, 20). These are all features of a ‘person’ or a ‘life’. The teaching of part of man continuing to live after death is not a Bible teaching.

The Grave, Gehenna and Eternal Life

There is a misunderstanding about what happens to the wicked when they die. Some people teach that the wicked are burnt for ever in a place called ‘hell.’ This teaching developed from Greek Philosophy.

In old versions of the Bible, they often translated the word ‘grave’ with the word ‘hell.’ This was incorrect and led to confusion. Modern versions of the Bible do not do this. In most modern versions of the Bible, the only mention of ‘hell’ comes from a translations of the word ‘gehenna’ (12 times) and ‘tartarus’ (1 time). These words only occur in the New Testament.

The word ‘gehenna’ means the ‘valley of Hinnon’. It was a place outside Jerusalem first mentioned at the time of Joshua (Joshua 15:8, 18:16). It was linked to idol worship and child sacrifice (Jeremiah 7:31). By the time of Jesus, it was thought to be the city rubbish tip. Like all rubbish tips, there was always a flame there and always worms (Mark 9:43-48). This does not mean there was an eternal flame where the wicked are burnt forever. It does mean that worthless people like criminals were thrown outside the city and burnt. The fire would not be put out until the bodies were completely burnt.

The wicked will not suffer pain forever in torment because of a short life of sin. God does not remain angry forever (Psalm 103:8-10). The punishment of the wicked is death,

“For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus, our Lord” (Romans 6:23).

This also teaches that the faithful can have eternal life. John tells us that God has given Jesus the authority to give eternal life to others,

“For you have granted him authority over all people that he might give eternal life to all those you have given him” (John 17:2).

Jesus is able to give eternal life. But not everyone will have it,

"To those who by persistence in doing good seek glory, honour and immortality, he will give eternal life. But for those who are self-seeking and who reject the truth and follow evil, there will be wrath and anger" Romans 2:7-8

Eternal life is for those who do good. Evil doers will not be given eternal life. God does not want evil doers doing evil for ever.

Many of our quotations have come from Ecclesiastes, which focuses on the destiny of man. It concludes in Ecclesiastes 12:13-14 with:

"Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter: Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the duty of all mankind. For God will bring every deed into judgment, including every hidden thing, whether it is good or evil."

Lesson 10: The Source of Evil (with an explanation of 'Devil' and 'Satan')

The Source of Evil

God identifies the source of evil. He witnessed His creation turn evil so that He ended up destroying it. We are told what went wrong at the time of the Flood,

"The Lord saw how great the wickedness of the human race had become on the earth, and that every inclination of the thoughts of the human heart was only evil all the time" (Genesis 6:5).

The human heart was the source of the problem. His heart was evil from a child,

"every inclination of the human heart is evil from childhood" (Genesis 8:21).

The real source of evil in this world comes from the human heart, which means the human mind. Even God's chosen people Israel had the same problem,

"But these people have stubborn and rebellious hearts; they have turned aside and gone away" (Jeremiah 5:23).

God summarised His understanding of the human heart:

"The heart is deceitful above all things and beyond cure" (Jeremiah 17:9).

Jesus agrees,

"But the things that come out of the mouth come from the heart, and these defile them. For out of the heart come evil thoughts - murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false testimony, slander. These are what defile a person" (Matthew 15:18-20).

The evil human heart is an enemy of God,

"The mind governed by the flesh is hostile to God; it does not submit to God's laws, nor can it do so" (Romans 8:7).

The evil mind of the flesh (human thinking) is against the mind of the spirit (godly thinking). The mind of the spirit (godly thinking) is the mind that submits to God's ways.

The human mind can choose whether to follow the way of the flesh or the spirit,

"Once you were alienated from God and were enemies in your minds because of your evil behaviour. But now he has reconciled you by Christ's physical body through death to present you holy in his sight, without blemish and free from accusation" (Colossians 1:21-22).

People do not automatically have to follow evil. They can choose what to do. As Jesus said,

"The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him" (Matthew 12:35).

Bible Names given to Human Nature – ‘Satan.’

The Bible gives other names to the evil side of human nature. One is the word ‘satan,’ which means ‘adversary’ or ‘enemy’. It is often used to refer to a person who behaves as an enemy of God.

An example of this is Peter. Peter tried to stop Jesus going to the cross, so,

"Jesus turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling-block to me; you do not have in mind the concerns of God, but merely human concerns" (Matthew 16:23).

The problem with Peter was his human thinking like a man. He was not thinking in the way God would have on this occasion.

Another example was Judas,

"Then Satan entered Judas, called Iscariot, one of the Twelve" (Luke 22:3).

The mind of Judas entered a state of being an enemy of Jesus, which led to the betrayal of Jesus. A state of mind ‘entering’ someone occurs elsewhere. For example,

"And there entered a reasoning among them, this, Who may be greatest of them?" (Luke 9:46, Youngs Literal Version).

This is a Bible way of saying someone changed their mind.

Believers can become enemies of God if they take on attitudes that are against God,

"don't you know that friendship with the world means enmity against God. Therefore, anyone who chooses to be a friend of the world becomes an enemy of God" (James 4:4).

The fact that the word ‘satan’ means ‘adversary’ or ‘enemy’ is shown by comparing 1 Chronicles 21:1 and 2 Samuel 24:1. Here the adversary to David and Israel is God Himself! Clearly, God is not his own enemy called ‘satan’. What it means is that that God was against David and Israel at this time.

God also cause adversaries (the Hebrew word is ‘satans’) to occur such as those against Solomon (1 Kings 11:14, 11:23, 25). God can do this because God alone has all power and authority. He is the one who can be your enemy or friend.

Bible Names given to Human Nature – ‘Devil.’

Another name given to the evil side of human nature is ‘devil’. Many languages do not distinguish between ‘devil’ and ‘satan’, but they are different in the original Greek New Testament. ‘Devil’ means ‘false accuser’ or ‘slanderer’. It means someone who makes false accusations or charges against someone else.

Here are some examples of where the ‘devil’ word is in the original Greek:

There will be a time when "People will be... slanderers" (2 Timothy 3:2-3).

That "the women are to be worthy of respect, not malicious talkers (Greek word for ‘slanderers')" (1 Timothy 3:11).

And "teach the older women to be reverent in the way they live, not to be slanderers or addicted to much wine" (Titus 2:3).

Believers can become 'devils' or 'false accusers' if they are not careful. Judas was one (John 6:70). Paul writes,

"In your anger do not sin. Do not let the sun go down while you are still angry, and do not give the devil a foothold" (Ephesians 4:26-27).

Paul is saying 'do not falsely accuse the one you are angry with'. If you resist this temptation, then you will avoid the problem,

"Resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (James 4:7).

The word for 'he' should be translated as 'it', because 'it' refers to the state of mind to be avoided.

The word 'slanderer' is often used of those who falsely accuse God's people (1 Timothy 3:6-7, 1 Peter 5:8).

Bible Names given to Human Nature – 'Sin.'

Sin is the breaking of God's commands. Sometimes the Bible refers to it as if it were like a person. The tendency of human nature to sin is described as like sin is a boss (Romans 6:6, 17) who pays wages (Romans 6:23) or like a king who reigns (Romans 5:21, Psalm 119:133). It is described as like an animal about to jump (Genesis 4:7). This is Bible language to help us understand the problem of sin. The problem of sin is a state of mind that can come suddenly on us. If we give in to temptation and sin, then it can rule over us (Psalm 19:13).

The False Teaching about Satan and the Devil

There is a teaching that evil in the world comes from a supernatural monster called 'Satan' or the 'Devil,' who tempts man into sin. Man likes this view because he can blame the problem of his sin onto someone else. It is helpful to point out a number of problems with this false teaching.

1. If a monster called 'Devil/Satan' causes wickedness, then why are wicked people punished? If the Devil/Satan is the cause of wickedness then people are not to blame. God does what is just (Deuteronomy 32:4), so He would not punish us if it were not our fault.
2. If the Devil/Satan is an immortal being in opposition to God, then this makes it an evil god. The Bible says there is only one God who causes good and evil (Isaiah 45:5-6). God is unopposed (Deuteronomy 32:39, Isaiah 43:13). There is no other god.
3. If the Devil/Satan is a fallen angel, it cannot be killed because angels are immortal (Luke 20:36). But Devil/Satan has been destroyed (Hebrews 2:14).

The Temptations of Jesus

Jesus was tempted in the wilderness for 40 days. In Matthew 4:10 we read,

"Jesus said to him, "Away from me, satan (adversary)!"

Jesus was not talking to anyone else. The Greek words for "him" can also mean "himself". A literal translation of the passage is, "Jesus said to himself, "Go, adversary". Jesus rebuked his own thoughts. This is like other places where the phrase "said to himself" occurs. It is often used of people who are thinking evil (Genesis 27:41, 1 Samuel 18:17, 1 Samuel 20:3, 1 Samuel 27:12, 2 Kings 5:20, Luke 7:39, 16:3, 18:4). Jesus used this 'self-talk' to fight the evil thoughts from his own heart.

According to Matthew and Luke's gospels, a slanderer or 'devil' tempted Jesus. Who was the slanderer? To answer this question, we will look at the options:

- 1) It cannot be God because God does not tempt anyone (James 1:13). God is not trying to cause people to sin.
- 2) It cannot be an angel because angels do not slander (2 Peter 2:11). God would not use them for this purpose. They help believers to get to the kingdom rather than hinder them (Hebrews 1:14).
- 3) It cannot be another man. A temptation would not have been a temptation unless it was possible. No man had the ability to give Jesus the kingdoms of the world. No man could take Jesus to the top of the temple.
- 4) It cannot be a supernatural evil being. They do not own the kingdoms of men. Only God owns the world (Job 41:11, Psalm 105:7, Daniel 4:17).

There remains only one other option that fits.

- 5) The slanderer was the temptation of Jesus's own mind.

The first temptation was to turn stones into bread. Jesus had just received the power of the Holy Spirit and was tempted to misuse this power for personal needs. He had been fasting 40 days and was hungry. We can understand the human mind, saying; "you're the son of God, why don't you use the power God gave you".

The second temptation was to put on a public display and show he really was God's son. He could jump off the top of the temple and the angels would be forced to catch him. At least, that was the reasoning that came from Psalm 91. But forcing God to act would be putting God to the test and that was wrong (Deuteronomy 6:18). Jesus had a good knowledge of Scripture, and so it makes sense if this temptation came from his own knowledge of Scripture.

The third temptation was about taking all the world as his own kingdom immediately. Jesus knew God had promised him the kingdom (Psalm 2:7-8) and that God was able to give them to him. This is a human temptation that many have fallen into over history. The temptation was one where he saw all the kingdoms of the world can be seen at once. Such a place does not exist. This temptation only makes sense if it took place in Jesus' mind. Just like all these temptations.

By fighting the temptations, Jesus caused the evil thoughts to flee. Temptations like these are described as like causing a separate person to flee. The separate person was a different way of thinking in their own mind,

"I was afraid that in some way the tempter had tempted you and that our labours had been in vain" (1 Thessalonians 3:5).

Lesson 11: Demons

Demons are a much-misunderstood topic. This has resulted in many strange thoughts which are poorly supported by the Bible. We must use the Bible to teach us on this topic, because God wrote the Bible and He knows about all things. He wrote about demons in the Bible.

Demons are only mentioned twice in the Old Testament. The first occasion is in Deuteronomy,

"They made him jealous with their foreign gods and angered him with their detestable idols. They sacrificed to false gods (Hebrew: demons), which are not God – gods they had not known, gods that recently appeared, gods your fathers did not fear" (Deuteronomy 32:16-17).

This translation has already changed the word 'demons' into 'false gods.' This passage teaches that demons are idols. God predicted that Israel would turn from worshipping Him and turn to idols. We read that this is exactly what happened,

"They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to false gods (Hebrew: demons)" (Psalm 106:37).

In both Old Testament passages "demons" are idols or false gods.

The New Testament confirms that demons are idols,

"Do I mean then that a sacrifice sacrificed to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything? No, but the sacrifice of pagans are offered to demons, not to God, and I do not want you to be participants with demons. You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons too; You cannot have a part in both the Lord's table and the table of demons. Are we trying to arouse the Lord's jealousy? Are we stronger than he?" (1 Corinthians 10:19-22)

Pagans sacrificed, fellowshiped and feasted with idols or demons. But God does not want His people to have anything to do with them.

The book of Revelation confirms that demons are idols,

"The rest of mankind that were not killed by these plagues still did not repent of the work of their hands; they did not stop worshipping demons, and idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood – idols that cannot see or hear or walk" (Revelation 9:20).

The consistent message of the Bible is that demons are idols. God does not want His people to worship other false gods or idols.

Are demons real?

The fact that God speaks about other gods does not mean that they are real. We are told they are nothing,

"Do I mean then that a sacrifice sacrificed to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything? No" (1 Corinthians 10:19-20).

The prophet Jeremiah speaks about idols,

"For the practices of the peoples are worthless; they cut a tree out of the forest, and a craftsman shapes it with his chisel. They adorn it with silver and gold; they fasten it with hammer and nails so that it will not totter. Like a scarecrow in a melon patch, their idols cannot speak; they must be carried because they cannot walk. Do not fear them; they can do no harm nor can they do any good" (Jeremiah 10:2-5).

Idols or demons are nothing. They cannot harm you. They cannot do anything, so do not worry about them.

God makes this clear that no other god is real,

"I am the Lord, and there is no other; apart from me there is no God" (Isaiah 45:5).

There is only one God: the God of Israel. Every other god is a human invention and does not really exist.

Why are demons linked to sickness?

Those who worshipped idols believed that idols had the power to cause sickness. That is where the phrase 'demon-possessed' came from. The phrase "demon-possessed" was used for certain types of sicknesses.

The sicknesses that were called 'demon-possession' were those where the cause was not obvious and was not visually seen. A paralyzed man has bad legs so that everyone could see why he was sick. A leper has discoloured skin which can be seen. There is no mystery as to what the problem was for these sicknesses.

But for someone who has ears but cannot hear, it was not clear why they were deaf. Nor is it easy-to-see why someone is mad. 'Demon-possession' was the general term used for conditions where there was no obvious easy-to-see cause. It was used because of the limited medical knowledge of the people at that time.

Here are a number of examples. The demon-possessed person in Matthew 9:32 was a man who was dumb,

"While they were going out, a man who was demon-possessed and could not talk was brought to Jesus."

The man had a mouth, but it was not clear why he could not talk. So, the condition was called 'demon-possessed'. It did not mean that a demon really existed, but it meant that there was a medical condition that had no clear cause.

The demon-possessed men in Matthew 12:22 was a man who was blind and dumb,

"Then they brought him a demon-possessed man who was blind and mute, and Jesus healed him, so that he could both talk and see".

The man had eyes and mouth, but there was no obvious reason why they did not function. It did not mean that a demon really existed but that his medical condition had no known cause.

God gave Jesus the authority to heal the sicknesses described as demon-possession. This healing was evidence of the truth of Jesus' message,

"Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and sickness among the people. News about him spread all over Syria, and people brought to him all who were ill with various diseases, those suffering severe pain, the demon-possessed, those having seizures, and the paralysed, and he healed them"
(Matthew 4:23-24).

In this passage, we have a list of sicknesses. 'Demon-possession' is just one of these sicknesses.

The same can be found in the other passages,

"When evening came, many who were demon-possessed were brought to him, and he drove out the spirits with a word and healed the sick. This is was to fulfil what was spoken through the prophet Isaiah, "He took up our infirmities and bore our diseases"" (Matthew 8:16-17).

The demon-possessed was a sick person. The healing of the demon-possessed was a fulfilment of the prophecy of the healing of diseases. We see again that the Bible speaks of demons as being diseases.

Summary Content of Lesson 11: Demons

- 1 Demons were idols that people incorrectly thought to have powers to make people sick.
- 2 The Bible says that idols have no power. They cannot make people sick.
- 3 The word 'Demon-possession' is a name given to certain types of sickness.
- 4 Jesus healed the demon-possessed just like he healed other sicknesses.

- 1 What does the Bible say demons are?
- 2 Do idols have any life or power?
- 3 Is there any power in this world apart from God?
- 4 Do idols have the ability to actually cause sickness?
- 5 What was meant by the term 'demon-possession'?
- 6 In Matthew 4:23-24, it uses the term 'demon-possessed' in a list of sicknesses. What does this tell us about 'demon-possession'?
- 7 Is the sickness of 'demon-possession' healed like other sicknesses?

Lesson 12: God

We have now learnt about man from the Bible. Now we will learn about God. We know there is a God from the things around us. Everything we see is evidence of the design by God. Psalm 8:3-4 says:

"When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is mankind that you are mindful of them, human beings that you care for them?"

The world, in its vastness and beauty, shows us how great and wise God is. When we look at the things around us, we should be humbled. Who are we compared to God?

Although we see His works, we cannot see God. We must have faith in Him. As it says,

"And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him" (Hebrews 11:6).

God has given us the Bible as further evidence of Him and to teach us what God wants us to know.

One God

There is only one God. There is no other. In Isaiah 45:5-7 He says:

"I am the Lord, and there is no other; apart from me there is no God. I will strengthen you, though you have not acknowledged me, so that from the rising of the sun to the place of its setting people may know that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is no other. I form the light and create darkness, I bring prosperity and create disaster; I, the LORD, do all these things."

There are no other gods apart from God. There is no power or authority apart from God. God alone is to be honoured and thanked.

There is no evil god in opposition to the true God. God is the only power in this universe. If there is a disaster, then it is God who has done it. If there is something good, then it is God who has done it. These two aspects of God are repeated in many different places,

"See now that I myself am he! There is no god besides me. I put to death and I bring to life, I have wounded and I will heal, and no one can deliver out of my hand" (Deuteronomy 32:39).

If God decides to kill or wound, then He does it. If God decides to heal and give life, then He does it. God does it all. There is no other god doing these things. God brought the flood on the world for wickedness in Noah's day and He also blessed Noah. God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah for wickedness in the days of Lot and He also blessed Lot.

Knowing this should prompt us to respond in a number of ways:

1) we should fear God because God can bring disaster and sickness on us,

"the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom" (Psalm 111:10).

2) there is no evil god or spirits causing these problems. We should not believe in them.

3) we should pray to God, because God can heal us, bless us and save us.

When we pray, we need to be patient. God is immortal. A thousand years are like one day to Him. Things seem to take a long time to us, but to God it is only minutes. When it comes to the things of God, we need to be patient.

God knows us and gives us what we have.

God knows everything. He knows everything about us,

"You have searched me, LORD, and you know me. You know when I sit and when I rise; you perceive my thoughts from afar. You discern my going out and my lying down; you are familiar with all my ways. Before a word is on my tongue you, LORD, know it completely. You hem me in behind and before, and you lay your hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me, too lofty for me to attain. Where can I go from your Spirit? Where can I flee from your presence?"
(Psalm 139:1-7)

God knows our thoughts. We cannot hide any secret thought or motive from Him!

Everything we have comes from God. He has given us life. He has given us our abilities and skills. We may think we are clever, and we may boast about ourselves. But really everything comes from God. We read in Romans 11:35-36,

"Who has ever given to God, that God should repay them?" For from him and through him and for him are all things. To him be glory forever! Amen."

It is more appropriate to thank God for what we have. If we give anything to God, we are only giving back what we received from Him in the first place,

"Everything comes from you, and we have given you only what comes from your hand" (1 Chronicles 29:14).

God's Character

God tells us what He is like as a person in Exodus 34:6-7,

"And he passed in front of Moses, proclaiming, 'The LORD, the LORD, the compassionate and gracious God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness, maintaining love to thousands, and forgiving wickedness, rebellion and sin. Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished; he punishes the children and their children for the sin of the parents to the third and fourth generation.'"

This list of qualities is wonderful. God is basically a God of love.

God does have a sense of right and wrong and He will punish the guilty. This is what justice is. Justice is knowing right from wrong and making sure people receive what is fair. Justice is a good thing because it means (eg) that murderers do not get away with murder.

Many people think God is like themselves. This is not true. God is holy, which means He is different. Consider the topic of forgiveness. God asks people to repent, which means He is willing to forgive and forget whatever they have done. This is hard for man to do.

Consider the attitude to enemies. God loves His enemies. God wants His enemies to turn to the right way and be saved,

"But if a wicked person turns away from all the sins they have committed and keeps all my decrees and does what is just and right, that person will surely live; they will not die. None of the offenses they have committed will be remembered against them. Because of the righteous things they have done, they will live. Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? declares the Sovereign LORD. Rather, am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live?"
(Ezekiel 18:21-23).

God is not pleased when the wicked die. This is quite different from man. God is so much higher and better in His thinking than man,

"For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways," declares the Lord. "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts" (Isaiah 55:8-9).

God's way of working is higher than ours. We should not question God what God is doing in our lives. He does what is right,

"He is the Rock, his works are perfect, and all his ways are just. A faithful God who does no wrong, upright and just is he" (Deuteronomy 32:4).

God always does what is right. He does no wrong. What is happening in our lives is not wrong. We need to humbly accept that the Creator of the Universe knows what He is doing. We will not always understand what He is doing.

Godliness

God made man in His image. We are designed to look like God. God wants us to not just look like Him but to behave like Him and be godly,

"You were taught, with regard to your former way of life, to put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; to be made new in the attitude of your minds; and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness" (Ephesians 4:22-24).

If we behave like God, then we become children of God and God is truly our Father. The quality of god-like-ness is godliness. We should be godly,

"You ought to live holy and godly lives" (2 Peter 3:11).

God has done everything for us. We would have no hope if God were not forgiving and loving. God has a plan to remove our sin and save us through the work of Jesus. We are told of the final stage of His plan for us in Revelation 22:3-5:

"No longer will there be any curse. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the city, and his servants will serve him. They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. There will be no more night. They will not need the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, for the Lord God will give them light. And they will reign for ever and ever."

We will see God! This should cause us to praise and thank God for everything He has done. We will end with the words of Jude 1:24-25,

"To him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you before his glorious presence without fault and with great joy – to the only God our Saviour be glory, majesty, power and authority through Jesus Christ our Lord, before all ages, now and for evermore! Amen."

Lesson 13: Is God a Trinity?

Many people today believe that God is really three separate Gods called the 'Trinity.' The Trinity is not taught in the Bible. It is a false teaching where it is believed that God is really three Persons: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, co-equal and co-eternal. Unfortunately this teaching is so common, and the topic is so important, that we must devote a lesson to explain it. It is important we are not confused.

The Trinity was developed by the churches in the first four centuries after Jesus. Prior to that time the Jews believed in only one God. The key teaching of the Jews is this verse,

"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one" (Deuteronomy 6:4).

Israel believed in only one God. So, of course, did Jesus and the apostles.

The teaching of the Trinity comes from people who mixed Greek and Roman philosophy with Bible teaching. They said that Jesus was also a 'God' at the Council of Nicea in AD325. For 56 years, they believed in only two Gods. Then at the Council of Constantinople in AD381, the churches made the Holy Spirit another 'God.' The churches adopted the false teaching of the Trinity from then on.

Is Jesus God?

The simple answer is that Jesus was a man. We read,

"For there is one God and one mediator between God and mankind, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Timothy 2:5).

This verse speaks about God and men, but it says that Jesus is a man. Jesus was a man like Adam,

"For since death came through a man (that is, Adam), the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man (that is, Jesus). For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive" (1 Corinthians 15:21-22).

Peter said Jesus was a man,

"Men of Israel, listen to this: Jesus of Nazareth was a man accredited by God to you by miracles, wonders and signs, which God did among you through him, as you yourselves know" (Acts 2:22-23).

It was necessary that Jesus was a man because he had to help mankind,

"Since the children (that is, people of God) have flesh and blood, he (that is, Jesus) too shared in their humanity...For this reason he had to be made like his brothers in every way, in order that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in service to God" (Hebrews 2:14, 17).

Jesus was human like other people. When we read of the life of Jesus, we read of his birth, growth, manhood and death. These are all aspects of being human. When Jesus died, he did not exist for three days when he was in the tomb. Then God raised him from the dead and gave him eternal life. Without God, Jesus would be nothing.

Jesus is never called 'God the Son.' He is only ever called 'Son of God.' Just as a son is different from a father, so Jesus is different from God.

Differences between Jesus and God

The false teaching of the Trinity teaches that Jesus and God are equal. But this is not what the Bible says. Jesus said,

"I am going to the Father, for my Father is greater than I" (John 14:28).

God is greater than Jesus. See also,

"The head of every man is Christ ... and the head of Christ is God"
(1 Corinthians 11:3).

Jesus is limited compared to God. Jesus is limited in his knowledge. When asked about the time of the return of Jesus, Jesus said:

"But about that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father" (Mark 13:32).

Jesus was different from God because Jesus was tempted. In speaking about Jesus we read,

"For we do not have a high priest who is unable to empathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are – yet he did not sin" (Hebrews 4:15).

But God cannot be tempted,

"When tempted, no one should say, "God is tempting me." For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does he tempt anyone" (James 1:13).

Jesus was mortal and died. This was unlike God who cannot die,

"God, the blessed and only ruler, the king of Kings and Lord of lords, who alone is immortal and who lives in unapproachable light, whom no one has seen or can see" (1 Timothy 6:15-16).

These verses also teach that Jesus was seen. This is unlike God who cannot be seen.

Like other men, God was the God of Jesus,

"The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" (2 Corinthians 11:31).

"Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 1:3).

Conclusion

Jesus is not God or part of a 'Trinity' of gods. There is only one God and Jesus is different from God,

"Yet for us there is but one God, the Father, through whom all things came and for whom we live; and there is but one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things came and through whom we live" (1 Corinthians 8:6).

In this verse, Jesus and God are mentioned, but there is only one God. Jesus is separate from God. Jesus is our Lord because he was sent by God and obeyed God his Father,

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him"

John 3:16-17.

Lesson 14: The Holy Spirit

The Holy Spirit is often misunderstood. It is known by other terms in the Bible. When Jesus was baptised, Jesus received the Holy Spirit in Luke 3:22. In the account of the same event in the gospel of Matthew in Matthew 3:16, the Holy Spirit is called the "Spirit of God".

When Ananias lied to the Holy Spirit in Acts 5:3, it is later called the "Spirit of the Lord" in verse 9. Another term for the Holy Spirit is the 'Spirit of the Lord.'

The Holy Spirit is the 'Spirit of God' and the 'Spirit of the Lord'. We notice in both these terms that it is of God. It is not separate from God. It is part of Him. In John 4:24 we read:

"God is spirit, and his worshipers must worship in the Spirit and in truth."

The spirit is God. The spirit is part of Him. The word "Holy" means 'separate'. The Spirit of God is separate from the world. This is why it is called the "Holy Spirit".

Not a Different Person

The Holy Spirit is not the third part of the Trinity. It is not a different person from God.

In Luke 11:13 we read:

"If you then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask!"

It is the Father who sends the Holy Spirit. The Father is able to do this because the Holy Spirit is part of Him. If the Father and the Holy Spirit were equal, how could one send the other? In the Bible, the Holy Spirit is always sent by the Father. For example, when speaking to Mary about the birth of Jesus,

"The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:35).

The Holy Spirit sent from God that caused the birth of Jesus. If the Holy Spirit was a person separate from God, then Jesus would have been called the son of the Holy Spirit.

In Matthew 12:32 we read about the importance of the Holy Spirit,

"Anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the age to come."

We are told that blasphemy against the Holy Spirit is unforgivable. However, the passage says nothing about blasphemy against God. The reason for this is that God and the Holy Spirit are the same thing. Blasphemy against the Holy Spirit is blasphemy against God. We know that blasphemy against God is a big problem, because it is one of the 10 commandments.

These are examples which show that the Holy Spirit is part of God and not a separate person.

How does God use His Holy Spirit

God uses His Holy Spirit in many ways. One way is that He uses it to give His message to people,

"For prophecy never had its origin in the human will, but prophets, though human, spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit"
(2 Peter 1:21).

God sent His Holy Spirit with the message of prophecy to His prophets. The prophet Isaiah received the Holy Spirit when he wrote the book of Isaiah and David received the Holy Spirit when he wrote some of the Psalms. The Bible comes from God. God passed His message to chosen people through the Holy Spirit. This is like Acts 4:31,

"After they prayed, the place where they were meeting was shaken. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke the word of God boldly."

The Holy Spirit was given to the disciples, so they were able to speak the word of God. God uses the Holy Spirit to pass on His message to different people at different times.

The Holy Spirit is not only the word of God. It can be an action. When Gabriel went to Mary, he gave her a message in Luke 1:35:

"The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called the Son of God".

Here the Holy Spirit is described as the 'power' of the Most High.

God's word and His action are closely linked. When God gives His word, the action is carried out,

"so is my word that goes from my mouth: It will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it"
(Isaiah 55:11).

For example, when God said, "Let there be light" there was light. With God, the actions follow the words. The words of God bring about actions. We can understand the Holy Spirit as the 'words and actions of God'.

Do we follow God's words and actions?

Do our words and actions follow those of God or are they like people of the world?

- If we speak and act like God does, then we follow the spirit of God.
- If we speak and act like the world does, then we are people of the world.

Sometimes the ways of the people of the world are called the ways of the 'flesh,'

"You, however, are not in the realm of the flesh but are in the realm of the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God lives in you" (Romans 8:9).

This passage says "if" the Spirit of God lives in us. We decide whether we live by the Spirit of God. If we follow the words and actions of God, then we live by the Spirit of God. If we do this, then we are children of God:

"For those who are led by the spirit of God are the children of God" (Romans 8:14).

Lesson 15: The Holy Spirit Gifts

At times, God gave some of His Holy Spirit to men or women. He did this so that His message and actions were carried out.

In the New Testament, these were called the 'gifts of the Holy Spirit'. In the Old Testament, they were called the 'spirit of God' coming on people. These are slightly different terms for the same thing. God gives instructions and abilities to people to help them follow the ways of God.

Holy Spirit Gifts in the Old Testament

God gave Moses the ability to perform miraculous signs and He gave him the Law of God. These were God's instructions on how the people of God were to live. God's people would not have known how to live if God had not given them this knowledge.

These instructions included how to build a house. In order to build this house, God gave certain people the knowledge and ability,

"See, I have chosen Bezalel son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, and I have filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, with understanding, with knowledge and with all kinds of skills – to make artistic designs for work in gold, silver and bronze, to cut and set stones, to work in wood, and to engage in all kinds of crafts. Moreover, I have appointed Oholiab son of Ahisamak, of the tribe of Dan, to help him. Also I have given ability to all the skilled workers to make everything I have commanded you" (Exodus 31:2-6).

God gave His spirit to Moses and others for the purpose of establishing His people as a new nation with God at its centre.

God gave His spirit gifts to others in the Old Testament at different times. It was always a rare event. Its purpose was to keep God's people following God's ways. The prophets Elijah and Elisha were examples of this.

Holy Spirit Gifts in the New Testament

The New Testament times was a time where God particularly gave His Holy Spirit to His people. It was the coming of the Messiah and a new age. The people needed to understand this message.

Jesus received the spirit at his baptism. This enabled him to teach God's message and perform miracles,

"When all the people were being baptized, Jesus was baptized too. And as he was praying, heaven was opened and the Holy Spirit descended on him in bodily form like a dove. And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son, whom I love; with you I am well pleased"" (Luke 3:21-22).

During his ministry, his 12 disciples were given the ability to do the same and they were sent on a preaching mission in Matthew 10. What we are not told is when this ability ended. However, we know that it did end because they had to be given the ability again at Pentecost. God gives His spirit for a purpose and when the purpose is complete, the spirit gift ends.

At Pentecost, the disciples of Jesus were given the spirit gifts. They were able to speak in tongues, so that visitors to Jerusalem were able to hear the message in their home languages. This was a new gift that had not occurred before. The reason for this new gift is clear. It was to enable the message of God to go to other nations. The gospel needed to be preached in different languages.

The gift of speaking in tongues was one of a number of gifts that God gave to Christians. 1 Corinthians 12:7-11 describes them:

"Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good. To one there is given through the Spirit a message of wisdom, to another a message of knowledge by means of the same Spirit, to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by that one Spirit, to another miraculous powers, to another prophecy, to another distinguishing between spirits, to another speaking in different kinds of tongues, and to still another the interpretation of tongues. All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, and he distributes them to each one, just as he determines."

There were many different types of gifts, but it was all from God who determined who had what gift.

Ephesians 4:11-13 tells us the purpose of these gifts:

"So Christ himself gave the apostles, the prophets, the evangelists, the pastors and teachers, to equip his people for the works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ."

The gifts were given because the new believers had to be given the right instructions and the right abilities. The new church had to be built. It had to be united in faith and knowledge. It had to be like Christ. The giving of the spirit gifts in the New Testament was similar to the giving of the gifts at the time of Moses. Both were to build up the people of God into a godly community. Both needed the instructions and abilities from God in order to do this effectively.

Were the Holy Spirit Gifts given for ever?

At the time of Moses, once the people of God were established in their faith and way of life, we have no further mention of these gifts of the spirit. By the time they arrived in the Promised Land, the Law of Moses had been established and the people had to follow the written instructions. There was no further need for the gifts.

The same is true of the spirit gifts in the New Testament. Once the people of God had been established in the faith, the gifts of the spirit were no longer required. The New Testament was written down with God's instructions on the Christian way of life.

We are told that a time would come when the miraculous gifts would cease:

"Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when completeness comes, what is in part disappears" (1 Corinthians 13:8-10).

A time would come when prophecies, tongues, knowledge and other gifts would end. This would be when 'completeness' comes. We understand the completeness to be when the New Testament instructions were completed. The New Testament has everything we need to enable us to live as Christians. Now they had the instructions written down, the gifts were no longer needed.

The apostle Peter spoke about a limited time for the giving of spirit gifts,

"Peter replied, "Repent and be baptised, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The promise is for you and your children and for all who are far off – for all whom the Lord our God would call" (Acts 2:38-39).

It was for them and their children – two generations. And it was those who were afar off, which means the Gentiles in other lands. But this is not the end of the spirit gifts. Hebrews 6:4-6 calls the spirit gifts as "the powers of the coming age,"

"It is impossible for those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, who have shared in the Holy Spirit, who have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the coming age and who have fallen away, to be brought back to repentance".

Given that these spirit gifts are gifts of a future age, it follows that the time before this age would be a time without these gifts. We do not have these miraculous gifts now, but they will be part of the future age when Jesus comes back. Just as the spirit gifts were used to establish the people of God at the time of Moses and at the time of Jesus, so there will be another time when the spirit gifts are needed to establish the people of God.

There is now an obvious question we must address. What about the many churches today who claim to have the miraculous gifts of the Holy Spirit? Are these really the work of the Holy Spirit?

The short answer is "no". Those who claim to speak in tongues are not speaking in foreign languages, as occurred in the New Testament. Rather they are in a state of spiritual excitement where they speak repetitive nonsense. This same state is found among other non-Christian groups. Those who claim to heal the sick have difficulty proving that they have really healed someone by the Holy Spirit.

What is important is that we are careful in what we believe. We are not to believe everything we hear (Proverbs 14:15),

"The simple believe anything, but the prudent give thought to their steps."

The New Testament gives the same advice but in a different way (1 John 4:1),

"Dear friends, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world."

There were many false prophets in the times of the Bible. It is the same today. We must be careful and base all our instruction and actions on the word of God found in the Bible. We know that the Bible comes from God. As for any teacher who claims to have God's gifts, we do not know if they are speaking the truth.

Lesson 16: Angels

The word for 'angel' means 'messenger'. They are the message bearers of God. The first time the word occurs is with Sarah's handmaid Hagar,

"Then the angel of the Lord told her, "Go back to your mistress and submit to her"" (Genesis 16:9).

The angel was sent by God to deliver a message and change events in the way God wanted.

God uses angels to direct the affairs of man. The angels go between God in heaven and man on earth in order to do this.

Angels go into the presence of God. From this we know that angels are only good. Evil people cannot go into God's presence. We read this in Psalm 5:4-5,

"For you are not a God who is pleased with wickedness; with you, evil people are not welcome. The arrogant cannot stand in your presence. You hate all who do wrong."

There are thousands and thousands of angels who approach the throne of God in heaven and serve God.

What do angels do?

The angels are the servants or ministers of God. Not only do they deliver messages, but they perform the tasks which God wants them to do,

"Praise the Lord, you his angels, you mighty ones who do his bidding, who obey his word. Praise the Lord, all his heavenly hosts, you his servants who do his will" (Psalm 103:20-21).

Angels obey God and do what God wants carried out.

One way God uses angels is to look after faithful believers,

"The angel of the Lord encamps around those who fear him, and he delivers them" (Psalm 34:7).

The believers can trust in God to protect them in their lives, and God does this through his angels. This is such a comfort to believers. All of us have many troubles in our lives, but God sends his angels to help us with them.

"Are not all angels ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation?" (Hebrews 1:14).

Angels are sent by God to look after his people and assist them in their life. Angels were sent to help people like Jacob, David, Daniel and Jesus. This passage also tells us that angels are spirits. They are not flesh but have a difference nature – spirit nature. This means they do not die.

But angels are also used by God to bring about punishments. The best example of this is Isaiah 37:36:

"Then the angel of the Lord went out and put to death a hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. When the people got up the next morning – there were all the dead bodies".

God destroyed the enemy of his people in a very dramatic way. God's people were surrounded by the enemy army of Assyria. They were going to lose, until God saved them.

God intervenes in the affairs of earth by sending his angels. They ensure that God's will is done, helping his people and punishing others as appropriate.

Representing God

The angels represent God. When Moses saw the burning bush, there was an angel causing the bush to burn. We are told this in Exodus 3:2:

"There the angel of the Lord appeared to him in the flames of fire from within a bush. Moses saw that though the bush was on fire it did not burn up."

In versus 4 of the same chapter, instead of the word 'angel' it says that "the Lord" and "God" called him,

"When the Lord saw that he had gone over to look, God called to him from within the bush, "Moses!, Moses!". And Moses said, "Here I am.""

It was an angel of God that was there, but he represented God. God saw and spoke, although it was through an angel. The same happens throughout Genesis 19 when angels appeared to Abraham. They were called "the Lord" because they spoke on behalf of God.

God speaks through his angels and the angels are called "God". This does not mean they were God. It means that were ministers acting on his behalf. Just as the king of a country sends messages and performs tasks through his ministers, so God does through His angels.

Divine Messengers and Human Messengers

When angels appear to people, they look like men. People like Abraham and Lot welcomed visitors who were actually angels. So we are warned in Hebrews 13:2:

"Do not forget to show hospitality to strangers, for by so doing some people have shown hospitality to angels without knowing it."

We mentioned that the word 'angel' means messenger. 'Messenger' is used in the Bible to mean any type of messenger - whether God's divine messenger or a human messenger. We see this most clearly in 2 Kings 1:3 where divine and human messengers are used in the same verse,

"But the angel of the Lord said to Elijah the Tishbite, "Go up and meet the messengers of the king of Samaria and ask them, 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going off to consult Baal-Zebub, the god of Ekron?"

The Hebrew word for 'angel' of the Lord is the same word as 'messenger' of the King. They are both messengers. The only difference is that the translators have translated the first word as 'angel' and the second word as 'messenger'. The translators have done this throughout the Bible in every passage where they believe the messenger of God is meant. The question is whether the translators have always done this correctly.

There is at least one place where the translators have incorrectly translated 'messenger' as 'angel' and where the mistranslation is important. This is the occasion in 2 Peter 2:4,

"For if God did not spare the angels when they sinned, but sent them to hell, putting them in chains of darkness to be held for judgment"

The whole chapter in 2 Peter 2 is about false human teachers. We see this in the chapter heading in most Bibles. In verse 1 we read that it is about people,

"But there were also false prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will secretly introduce destructive heresies, even denying the Sovereign Lord who bought them – bringing swift destruction on themselves."

The chapter describes some of the false prophets from among the people. In verse 17 we read that these are again described as people,

"These people are springs without water and mists driven by a storm. Blackest darkness is reserved for them."

This means that the 'angels who sinned' were really human 'messengers who sinned'. In fact, there are good reasons to understand that this verse is about the false messengers of Korah, Dathan and Abiram in Numbers 16 who fell into a deep pit.

The translation of the passage in Peter is incorrectly used to teach that there is a fallen angel. This verse does not teach this. As we have learnt, angels are always good.

Summary

Angels are God's ministers who carry God's messages and carry out God's instructions. They are sent by God to bring about His plan and purpose. They help God's people but will punish if necessary.

They speak on God's behalf and are often the means by which God speaks to people. When they appear to God's people, they appear as men.

There are many thousands of angels, who minister before God's throne in heaven and come to earth to carry out His orders. They exist to serve God and bring honour to Him.

We have much to learn about serving God from angels. We should learn what God wants from the Bible, carry His message to other people and do what God wants us to do. We should not take glory to ourselves but give glory to God alone.

In fact, people who serve God are called God's messengers. For example, prophets were called God's messengers in Haggai 1:13,

"Then Haggai, the Lord's messenger, gave this message of the Lord to the people: "I am with you," declares the Lord."

We can learn from the example of angels and try to be like them ourselves.

Lesson 17: The Promises to Abraham and David

God made two promises in the Old Testament with everlasting consequences. This means that they applied during the time of the New Testament and continue to apply today. Both are mentioned frequently in the New Testament as being important. Both affect Christians. Both explain the role of Jesus. We need to understand these promises in order to understand the work of Jesus. These are promises that God made to Abraham and to King David.

The Promise to Abraham

God called Abraham to leave his country and go to a new country. Abraham obeyed. In this way Abraham showed his faith in God. God rewarded Abraham's faith with a promise. This promise was repeated several times, but the main elements can be seen in Genesis 17 and 22.

- 1) Abraham would have many children (17v2)
- 2) Abraham would be a father of many nations, including kings (17v3)
- 3) God would be his God (17v3)
- 4) Abraham and his children would be given the land of Canaan for ever (17v8)
- 5) All nations will be blessed through him (22:18)

The fact that all nations will be blessed means that everyone can benefit, including you and me.

These blessings were passed on to Abraham's son Isaac and his grandson Jacob. Finally, they passed to all of Jacob's descendants, who we know as the Israelites.

The Promise started to be fulfilled. The Israelites did inherit the land of Canaan, which we know as the land of Israel. But it did not last for ever. Instead of keeping faith with the God of Israel, the people of Israel turned to other gods. They lacked faith in God. So God turned away from them and removed from the land.

Even though Israel was not faithful, God is faithful. He had made a promise and He will keep it. God bring about the made a promise through Jesus. Peter explained this to his fellow Israelites when speaking about Jesus,

"And you are heirs of the prophets and of the covenant God made with your fathers. He said to Abraham, 'Through your offspring all peoples on earth will be blessed.' When God raised up his servant, he sent him first to you to bless you by turning each of you from your wicked ways" (Acts 3:25-26).

The promise to Abraham spoke of a blessing to all nations. It is through Jesus that people can be blessed. This blessing would not automatically come on everyone, but people had to turn from wickedness to Jesus.

This is the key. Israel thought that they would get the blessings of Abraham by just being children of Abraham. But this is not true.

Abraham was blessed because he had faith. Isaac and Jacob were blessed because they had faith. In the same way, only those with faith will be blessed. Jesus made this clear to those who relied on their ancestry in John 8:39,

"Abraham is our father, they answered. "If you were Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then you would do what Abraham did."

So far it seems that the promise to Abraham does not affect those of us who are non-Jews. But we are in for a surprise,

"So in Christ Jesus you are all children of God through faith, for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. There is neither Jew nor Gentile, neither slave nor free, nor is there male or female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise" (Galatians 3:26-29).

If we have faith, like Abraham, and are baptised into Christ, then we become Abraham's children. The promises made to Abraham also belong to us.

This means that we will be blessed and as Abraham's children we will inherit the Promised Land for ever.

In order to remain in this state, we do need to behave like we are children of Abraham. We need to do what Abraham did and live by faith. As Galatians 3:9 says:

"So those who rely on faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith".

The Promise to David

Now let us consider the promise God made to King David. We can read of this in:

"When your days are over and you go to be with your ancestors, I will raise up your offspring to succeed you, one of your own sons, and I will establish his kingdom. He is the one who will build a house for me, and I will establish his throne forever. I will be his father, and he will be my son. I will never take my love away from him, as I took it away from your predecessor. I will set him over my house and my kingdom forever; his throne will be established forever." (1 Chronicles 17:11-14).

This teaches the following,

- 1) One of David's sons would be king.
- 2) This son would build a house for God.
- 3) The kingdom and throne of this son would last forever.
- 4) God would be his father.

When the angel Gabriel announced the birth of Jesus to Mary, Gabriel said that Jesus would fulfil the promise to David,

"But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary; you have found favour with God. You will conceive and give birth to a son, and you are to call him Jesus. He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over Jacob's descendants forever; his kingdom will never end" (Luke 1:30-33).

The kingdom that Jesus sets up will be one based on the previous kingdom of David. Jesus will actually sit on the throne of David. Since the throne of David was in Jerusalem, it means that the throne Jesus will sit on will be in Jerusalem.

Unlike all worldly kingdoms, the kingdom of Jesus will last for ever. We understand that this will happen because Jesus has been made immortal and reign as king forever.

Combining the Two Promises

Let us now put the two promises together. They teach the following:

- 1) There will be a special son of Abraham and David.
- 2) This special son will also be the son of God.
- 3) The children of Abraham will live in the land of Canaan forever.
- 4) All nations will be blessed, not just Israelites.
- 5) A king will reign from Jerusalem forever.
- 6) The people of the kingdom will be people of faith.

These promises are about Jesus and the future role of Jesus with the earth. He will set up a kingdom that includes the land of Canaan, which we also know as Israel. His throne and capital will be Jerusalem. It is a kingdom based on earth.

We are taught to pray for this kingdom. Reading from Matthew 6:10,

"your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven".

Will we be in the Kingdom?

The kingdom of God is coming. It will be set up because God has promised it. But will we be in it?

Jesus told a parable about the door to the kingdom and how many wanted to get into it. In Luke 13:22-30, we read,

"The Jesus went through the towns and villages, teaching as he made his way to Jerusalem. Someone asked him, "Lord, are only a few people going to be saved?"

He said to them, "Make every effort to enter through the narrow door, because many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able to. Once the owner of the house gets up and closes the door, you will stand outside knocking and pleading. 'Sir, open the door to us.'

"But he will answer, 'I don't know you or where you come from.'

"Then you will say, 'We ate and drank with you, and you taught in our streets.'

"But he will reply, 'I don't know you or where you come from. Away from me, all you evildoers!"

"There will be weeping there, and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves thrown out. People will come from east and west and north and south, and will take their places at the feast in the kingdom of God. Indeed there are those who are last who will be first, and first who will be last."

Jesus teaches us that many will try and get into the kingdom and will not make it. These people are those who knew of Jesus. They knew how to find the door and knock. But they were not faithful.

If we want to receive the promises, we must be people of faith. We need to show our faith by being baptised and living a life of faith.

Lesson 18: The Life of Jesus

Jesus Christ is the most important part of God's creation. He is the centre of God's Plan. He is the reason for the future life of those who choose to follow God.

God planned Jesus from the beginning. Just like an architect has a plan for building a house, so God had a plan to build His house.

An architect plans the building in stages, starting with the foundations, then the chief corner stone and then the building. In the same way, God laid the foundations with the fathers. He added the chief corner stone, Jesus. He has been building the house of believers ever since.

All this was planned from the beginning. Even the believers have been chosen from the beginning as part of God's plan. We read this in Ephesians 1:4-5:

"For he chose us in him before the creation of the world to be holy and blameless in his sight. In love he predestined us for adoption to sonship through Jesus Christ, in accordance with his pleasure and will."

God's plan from the beginning included us and Jesus. His plan is to adopt us as sons through the work of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is critical to our hope and life.

Predicting Jesus

God's plan means that God was able to tell different people at different times what He was going to do. An example of this is Abraham,

"Your father Abraham rejoiced at the thought of seeing my day; he saw it and was glad" (John 8:56).

Another example is David,

"David said about him: "I saw the Lord always before me. Because he is at my right hand, I will not be shaken. Therefore my heart is glad and my tongue rejoices; my body also will live in hope" (Acts 2:25-26).

Both Abraham and David understood God's plan with Jesus, long before Jesus existed. They knew this because of the promises that God gave them. They did not know that his name would be called Jesus, but they knew there would be a special man from their lineage. Jesus was to be the Son of Abraham and the Son of David. When they understood God's plan, both were glad.

The first verse of the New Testament teaches us that Jesus was the son of Abraham and son of David,

"This is the genealogy of Jesus the Messiah the son of David, the son of Abraham" (Matthew 1:1).

He was the one promised. He was the promised Messiah.

Much of Jesus' life had already been foretold in the Old Testament. He was to be born in Bethlehem. He was to be born of a virgin. There are many, many examples of this. Jesus himself was aware of this. We read this in Luke 24:27,

"And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself."

The Life of Jesus

We will now briefly describe the life of Jesus. Jesus had a beginning. He did not exist before he was born. We can read of the events in the early chapters of Luke. His conception was miraculous. There was no human father because God was his father. The pregnancy and birth of Jesus were normal. The shepherds were able to see a normal baby. The baby grew in a normal way,

"And the child grew and became strong: he was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was on him" (Luke 2:40).

Matthew chapter 2 tells us that Jesus was taken down to Egypt for several years for his safety, before returning to Nazareth. When Jesus was 12 years old, he went to the temple at Jerusalem and amazed the teachers by his understanding. We are then not told anything until Jesus was 30 when he was baptised.

The baptism of Jesus was significant and was the start of his ministry. He was baptised in the Jordan river by full immersion in water,

"When all the people were being baptised, Jesus was baptised too. And as he was praying, heaven was opened and the Holy Spirit descended on him in bodily form like a dove. And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son, whom I love; with you I am well pleased"" (Luke 3:21-24).

This event was a witness that Jesus was the Son of God and that God approved of him and provided His spirit to help him.

These blessings were also temptations. Jesus could be tempted to misuse the spirit. Jesus could be tempted to misuse the fact that God was his father. His knowledge of the plan of God was also a temptation to misuse this knowledge and bring about God's plan quickly. These temptations were with Jesus in the wilderness. Yet Jesus resisted. He was tempted throughout his life, but he resisted,

"For we do not have a high priest who is unable to empathise with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are – yet he did not sin." (Hebrews 4:15).

Here was the great battle – the battle for the mind. Jesus did not give into his temptations and so he did not sin. Every other human has. Jesus battled with the greatest enemy – his own mind – and won.

We battle with our greatest enemy – our own minds – and have lost because we sin. But we do not despair, because Jesus won his battle. If we unite ourselves with Jesus, he can help us win our own battle.

This is the good news for us. Jesus was not going to keep the benefits of his victory to himself but to share it with others.

Jesus spent his ministry telling others of this good news,

"Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and sickness among the people" (Matthew 4:23).

As evidence of his message being from God, he was able to heal the sick and raise the dead. Healing and raising the dead are among the blessings that will come when the Kingdom of God comes.

Jesus only did what was good and right. It was strange that he was betrayed by a friend, falsely accused by the leaders and killed by the Jewish people with the help of the Romans. God tells us that even this was part of His plan through Peter (Acts 2:22-23):

"Fellow Israelites, listen to this: Jesus of Nazareth was a man accredited by God to you by miracles, wonders and signs, which God did among you through him, as you yourselves know. This man was handed over to you by God's deliberate plan and foreknowledge; and you, with the help of wicked men, put him to death by nailing him to the cross."

Jesus died. He was killed by professional killers who knew how to do their job. Jesus died like any man. He stopped breathing.

Jesus was dead for 3 days. He did not exist for 3 days. Just as he was born as a human, so he died as a human. He needed God to raise him. Peter continued his teaching (Acts 2:24):

"But God raised him from the dead, freeing him from the agony of death, because it was not possible for death to keep its hold on him."

God raised Jesus to life again and gave him immortal life.

We are told what Jesus did after he was raised from the dead in Acts 1:3:

"After his suffering, he presented himself to them and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God."

The disciples needed to be convinced about his resurrection and they needed to understand about the kingdom of God. These are the two parts to the gospel message.

Jesus did not stay with his disciples. He went to heaven in a cloud. We read in Acts 1:9-11:

"After he said this, he was taken up before their very eyes, and a cloud hid him from their sight. They were looking intently up into the sky as he was going, when suddenly two men dressed in white stood beside them. "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven."

Jesus remains in heaven to this day. But he will return to the earth to set up the kingdom of God. He is the king of the Jews who will be the king of this kingdom.

When Jesus returns, Jesus will recognise his true disciples and separate them from those who are false. Jesus warns us about this in his final message in Revelation 22:12.

"Look, I am coming soon! My reward is with me, and I will give to each person according to what they have done."

Did Jesus exist before he was born?

Those who say that Jesus is God say that Jesus existed from the beginning of Creation. These people misunderstand the teaching of the Bible.

God has a plan and purpose with the earth from the beginning, like an architect. An architect knows what he going to build. He plans the different stages of the building and who will construct them at the different times.

It is the same with God. God is the master architect. He is not just planning a building. He is planning a city and a kingdom. We read about Abraham,

"he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God." (Hebrews 11:10).

God worked out what everything would look like before it happened. Isaiah 46:9-10 tells us of this plan from the beginning:

"Remember the former things, those of long ago; I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is none like me. I make known the end from the beginning, from ancient times, what is still to come. I say, 'My purpose will stand, and I will do all that I please'".

God knew from the beginning how the things on earth were going to end up because God planned it. He invites us to be part of this plan,

"Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world" (Matthew 25:34).

The kingdom of God had been planned by God from the beginning. We are still waiting for this part of God's plan.

Because God planned everything from the beginning, He can tell us what is about to happen. Reading from Isaiah 37:26,

"Have you not heard? Long ago I ordained it. In days of old I planned it; now I have brought it to pass, that you have turned fortified cities into piles of stone."

In the case of Isaiah 37, God planned the events of king Hezekiah's time, where all the cities of Israel except Jerusalem were destroyed. God planned this from long ago. When the right time came, God made it happen.

Another example of God's plan is the rebuilding of the city of Jerusalem. In this case, God predicted He would use a king called Cyrus,

"who says of Cyrus, 'He is my shepherd and will accomplish all that I please'; he will say of Jerusalem, 'Let it be rebuilt,' and of the temple, 'Let its foundations be laid'" (Isaiah 44:28).

What is interesting here is that king Cyrus had not yet been born. God was telling Isaiah that He would bring into the world a king called Cyrus who would help rebuild Jerusalem. God had planned this from the beginning. He was now telling one of his prophets a small part of this plan.

God plans events and then He makes them happen. There are many other examples of God telling man what He is going to do before it happens. God did this through His prophets. As Amos 3:7 says,

"Surely the Sovereign Lord does nothing without revealing his plan to his servants the prophets."

Lesson 19: Resurrection and Judgment

Humans do not live for ever.

It is essential to understand that we humans do not have eternal life. We live and we die. Our life is described in the Bible as something that is temporary. It is like a wind that comes and goes, a shadow that forms then disappears, a cloud that passes by or grass that springs up and then fades away. Human life is temporary.

The only way we can obtain eternal life is through Jesus Christ. This is taught in the most famous verse in the Bible, John 3:16,

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life".

If man had eternal life already, there would be no reason for Jesus to die. Jesus died so that we might obtain eternal life.

If man already had eternal life, it would mean that wicked people would live forever. God's plan does not allow sinners to keep on sinning for eternity. This does not make sense.

God's plan allows for believers to obtain eternal life,

"For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

All of us will die because of sin. Death is the wages of our sin. However, there is a gift that God can give us, which is eternal life. This is obtained through the work of Jesus and our belief in him.

There are two problems with this arrangement. The first problem is that all people die. So how can they then live?

The answer to this problem is the resurrection of the dead. Dead believers will be raised from the grave back to life.

The second problem is that not all believers are genuine. Some are fake. Will fake believers get eternal life?

The answer to this problem is the judgment. Believers will be judged as to who is true and who is false, or put another way, who is wicked and who is righteous. Only the righteous will be given eternal life.

The Resurrection and Judgment

In Romans 2:5-8 we read about God's attitude to wicked believers and about the judgment:

"But because of your stubbornness and your unrepentant heart, you are storing up wrath against yourself for the day of God's wrath, when his righteous judgment will be revealed. God "will repay each person according to what they have done." To those who by persistence in doing good seek glory, honour and immortality, he will give eternal life. But for those who are self-seeking and who reject the truth and follow evil, there will be wrath and anger."

The righteous are those who do good. They will be rewarded with eternal life.

The wicked are those who are "self-seeking and who reject the truth and follow evil". They will not be given eternal life but will be subject to God's anger.

God will ensure righteous judgment is carried out, when all believes are judged fairly according to what they have done.

Jesus explained God's plan of resurrection and judgment in John 5:27-29:

"And he has given him authority to judge because he is the Son of Man. Do not be amazed at this, for a time is coming when all who are in their graves will hear his voice and come out – those who have done what is good will rise to live, and those who have done what is evil will rise to be condemned."

God has delegated the judgment to His Son Jesus. Jesus will call the dead believers out of the graves and judge them. They will be judged according to what they have done. They will either be declared 'good' or they will be declared 'evil'. The good will live and the evil will not.

The Resurrection

The resurrection of the dead was taught by Jesus when Lazarus died. His sister Martha was crying when Jesus comforted her,

"Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die; and whoever lives by believing in me will never die. Do you believe this?" (John 11:23-26).

Believers believe in the resurrection from the dead. This will happen "at the last day". Believers will be raised from the dead to an eternal life. Jesus wants us to believe in this.

The book of Thessalonians 4:16-17 gives us more details about the events of the resurrection,

"For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of an archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever."

The resurrection starts with a shouted command from Jesus, which happens when he comes back from heaven. This results in the dead believers being raised. The believers who are alive at this time will be gathered with these raised believers and will be transported to be with Jesus. The good believers will then be with Jesus forever.

There was much confusion about the resurrection of the dead at the time of Jesus. Some believed in it and some did not,

"Then Paul, knowing that some of them were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, called out in the Sanhedrin, "My brothers, I am a Pharisee, descended from Pharisees. I stand on trial because of the hope of the resurrection of the dead." When he said this, a dispute broke out between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the assembly was divided. (The Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, and that there are neither angels or spirits, but the Pharisees believe all these things)" (Acts 23:6-8).

The Sadducees were the ruling priests and they did not believe in the resurrection. This was an error and Jesus told them,

"Jesus replied, "Are you not in error because you do not know the Scriptures or the power of God?" (Mark 12:24).

Unfortunately today there is also much confusion about whether there is a resurrection. Many religious leaders do not believe in the resurrection, just like the Sadducees of Jesus' day. However, the Bible teaches there is a resurrection of the dead.

The Judgment

We have given some of the verses that teach the resurrection of the dead. We will now give some more about the judgment.

The judgment is taught in many of Jesus's parables. An example of this is the parable of the fish net in Matthew 13:47-50:

"Once again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was let down into the lake and caught all kinds of fish. When it was full, the fishermen pulled it up on the shore. Then they sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad away. This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous and throw them into the blazing furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

The believers are like the fish. They will be judged as to whether they are good and bad. The good are kept and the bad destroyed.

This separation of the good and bad at judgment occurs in many other parables. There is the separation of the wheat from the tares. There is the separation of the sheep from the goats.

The bad must be separated from the good so that the bad do not get eternal life.

Given that there is a separation of the good from the bad, how do we make sure that we are judged to be good by Jesus and not rejected? A ruler asked Jesus this exact question in Matthew 19:16-17:

"Just then a man came up to Jesus and asked, "Teacher, what good thing must I do to get eternal life? Why do you ask me about what is good? Jesus replied. "There is only One who is good. If you want to enter life, keep the commandments."

If we want eternal life, we must obey God and keep the commandments. We must come to Jesus, believe in him and follow him.

If we think we already have eternal life, then we may not try hard in order to gain it. We have a danger of missing out on God's gift.

Conclusion

Eternal life is a great gift. If man could buy it, he would. If man could earn it, he would. But eternal life is a gift that cannot be bought or earned.

Eternal life is more valuable than anything else this short life has. It is worth us doing everything we can to receive it. It is worth spending our short life now to gain it.

Let us think about this eternal gift that God is offering us in Jesus and obey the commands in order to receive it. We will leave you with a quotation from Jude 1:20-21:

"But you, dear friends, by building yourselves up in your most holy faith and praying in the holy spirit, keep yourselves in God's love as you wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you eternal life."

Lesson 20: Holiness

Just as God is holy, so we must be holy,

"But just as he who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do; for it is written: "Be holy, because I am holy"" (1 Peter 1:15-16).

Hebrews 12:14 says,

"without holiness no one will see the Lord".

Only holy people will be in the kingdom,

"But the holy people of the Most High will receive the kingdom and will possess it for ever – yes, for ever and ever" (Daniel 7:18).

If we want to be part of that future age, then we must be holy. The holy kingdom of God will ultimately only have holy people in it.

The word "holy" means "set apart, separate". This raises the question: "What are they to be set apart from?"

The answer to this is "the world,"

"Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God's mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God – this is your spiritual act of worship. Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind" (Romans 12:1-2).

We are not to be like the people in the world. We have to transform ourselves into the people of God – we need to change into holy ones who are pleasing to God.

Being Holy in this world

We must live in the world, but that does not mean we should be like them. Peter says that we must live like we are different people – we must live like we are foreigners in this world,

"Dear friends, I urge you, as aliens and strangers in the world, to abstain from sinful desires, which war against your soul. Live such good lives among the pagans that, though they accuse you of doing wrong, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day he visits us" (1 Peter 2:11-12).

There must be a difference in the way we live. This should be obvious to those around us. We must be different from the world. John writes about the world and underlines why we must be different,

"Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For everything in the world – the cravings of sinful man, the lust of his eyes and the boasting of what he has and does – comes not from the Father but from the world. The world and its desires pass away, but the man who does the will of God lives for ever" (1 John 2:15-17).

If we love the world, then we won't want to be different. Those who are like the world will pass away with it. If we are like God we will live for ever.

What does it mean to be holy?

It is easiest to see this in the book of Ephesians where it gives many practical examples of what it means to be holy. In a section describing the differences, Paul writes in Ephesians 4:22–24:

"You were taught, with regard to your former way of life, to put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; to be made new in the attitude of your minds; and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness."

Here it the transformation we need to make. We must transform our way of thinking into something that is like God. Another way of looking "holiness" is to consider it to be "godliness". We are to be like God, and not like the world.

The word 'holiness' emphasizes the difference we need to have from the world.

The word 'godliness' emphasizes the likeness we should have to God.

We can break the practical advice of Ephesians down into four headings. If we follow this advice, we will go a long way to being holy or godly:

- 1) Speech. We must speak truth (Ephesians 4:25). We must use our speech to build people up (4:29), speaking only wholesome words (4:29). We must avoid foolish talk, obscenity and bad jokes (5:4). We must be thankful (5:4).
- 2) Self-control. We must control our anger (4:26, 31). We must avoid bitterness, evil and fighting (4:31). We must avoid sexual immorality, impurity and greed (5:3). We must avoid drunkenness (5:18).
- 3) Love. We must be kind, compassionate and forgiving (4:32). We must submit to others (5:21).
- 4) Givers not takers. We must not take other people's things. We must work. We must have enough to give the poor (4:28).

The first two points are largely about controlling the flesh. We must control our tongues and our bodies.

The second two points are about walking in the spirit. We must show we live in the spirit.

If we only control the flesh, and do not walk in the spirit, we will not be like God.

If we walk in the spirit and don't control the flesh, then we will look like the world with bits of godliness. This is not like God either.

Much of the above guidance is summed up in the example of a little child. A little child does not know bad language, is thankful and speaks truth. A little child is not bitter, angry, impure, immoral or drunk. A little child submits to others and is kind. A little child does not steal and tends to share. We must all be like little children if we are to inherit the kingdom (Luke 18:17),

"I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it."

We could summarise holiness as having 2 parts:

- 1) Controlling the flesh
- 2) Promoting the spirit

Promoting the spirit includes promoting the fruits of the spirit described in Galatians 5:22-23;

"But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law".

Someone who controls the flesh and promotes the spirit becomes a different person from one who does not. It is the difference between a man of the world and a man of God. It will help us understand the differences between the two if we put them side by side.

Holiness

Patient
Peaceful
Humble
Faithful to partner
Self-control
Happy at good things only
Loves enemies
Kind to the poor
Speaks only good
Loves God's word
Praises God
Gentle
Does good even when it hurts

Worldliness

easily angered
argumentative, complaining, fights driven by self-importance and pride driven by poorly-restrained sexual desires gets drunk and over indulgent
Happy at all things including evil
Loves only friends
Selfish
Speaks good and bad
No place for God
Disrespects God
Harsh
Does whatever is necessary to avoid hurt/blame

There is a big difference between them and worldly people. God wants His people to be holy and godly people – people who are like Him.

We read about this in Colossians 3:12-14,

"Therefore, as God's chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. Bear with each other and forgive whatever grievances you have against one another. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love, which binds them all together in perfect unity".

As God's people, we have to choose to become holy and like God. It is not natural. We have to take positive steps to become holy. It is like putting on clothes. We have to choose the clothes and then clothe ourselves with the right attitudes and behaviours.

God knows whether we are holy or not. We must ensure we are holy when Jesus returns. This is one of the final messages of the Bible:

"Let him who does wrong continue to do wrong; let him who is vile continue to be vile; let him who does right continue to do right; and let him who is holy continue to be holy. Behold, I am coming soon! My reward is with me, and I will give to everyone according to what he has done...The grace of the Lord Jesus be with God's people. Amen" (Revelation 22:11-12, 21).

Lesson 21: Fellowship

When people are baptised into Christ, they are baptised into a fellowship of believers. This is taught using the image of the body,

"Just as a body, though one, has many parts; but all its many parts form one body, so it is with Christ. For we were all baptised by one spirit so as to form one body – whether Jews or Gentiles, slave or free – and we were all given one spirit to drink" (1 Cor 12:12-13).

We are all one body. Just as a hand is not the body, so we alone are not the body. We are only in the body if we are part of it. We are in the body when we are baptised.

We read how believers immediately came together in Acts 2:42,

"They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer".

Here is the basis of Christian living. Believers join together and there are highlighted four ways of doing this,

- The apostles teaching
- Fellowship
- Breaking of Bread
- Prayer

1 John 1:7 makes it clear that believers must be together,

"But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all sin".

If we walk in the light, then we automatically are in fellowship with our fellow walkers.

1 Corinthians 1:9 says, "God is faithful, who has called you into fellowship with his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord".

We are God's choice. The same is true for all our new brothers and sisters. They are God's choice. It is not for us to disagree with God's choice of our new brothers and sisters.

Just as a family is a collection of people with the same father, so we become part of a spiritual family with God as our Father,

"So in Christ Jesus you are all children of God through faith" (Galatians 3:26).

We are called to be united in Christ with all our new brothers and sisters. The Scripture is full of this teaching. We are to be one body, one family, one loaf, one temple, one vine, one flock.

The Breaking of Bread Service

The Breaking of Bread service is an essential activity for every Christian. Jesus told his disciples to break bread and drink wine in memory of his death and resurrection. The details are taught in Matthew 26:17-30, Mark 14:12-28, Luke 22:7-20 and 1 Corinthians 11:17- 29.

The disciples were to take some bread and break it. The broken bread was to be a symbol of the body of Jesus broken on the cross. They were to remember what Jesus had done for them and offer a prayer of thanks. The disciples were to share the bread among themselves and eat it.

They were then to take a cup of wine. The wine was a symbol of the blood of Jesus that was spilled on the cross. They were to remember the blood of Jesus and offer a prayer of thanks for it. Then they were to pass it among themselves and take a sip of wine each.

When the Bible refers to the 'Breaking of Bread', it means taking both the bread and the wine in memory of the death and resurrection of Jesus.

In the New Testament, it was their practice to break bread once a week, usually on the first day of the week, a Sunday. But there is no command that it has to be a Sunday or even once a week. The service can take place more frequently and on other days of the week. However, we are supposed to remember the work of Jesus, so it is good practice to break bread once a week.

Who to fellowship and not to fellowship.

Just as there is light, there is also darkness. Believers in the light are not to fellowship darkness,

"Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? What harmony is there between Christ and Belial? What does a believer have in common with an unbeliever?" (2 Corinthians 6:14-15).

We should not fellowship those who are in darkness. Our fellowship is only with those who are in the light and this light comes from understanding the apostles teaching.

The letters of John teach us who we should fellowship and who we should not fellowship. In 2 John, we are told not to fellowship those who believe Jesus did not come in the flesh,

"I say this because many deceivers, who do not acknowledge Jesus Christ as coming in the flesh, have gone out into the world. Any such person is the deceiver and the antichrist...If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not take him into your house or welcome him. Anyone who welcomes him shares in his wicked work" (2 John 1:7, 10-11).

We should not share with those who teach the nature of Christ falsely. Those who teach the Trinity are like this. We must not fellowship them.

On the other hand, we must fellowship true believers. In 3 John 9-10 we read of someone who did not and who also prevented others from fellowship, the apostle John said,

"I wrote to the church, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first, will not welcome us. So when I come, I will call attention to what he is doing, spreading malicious nonsense about us. Not satisfied with that, he even refuses to welcome the other believers. He also stops those who want to do so and puts them out of the church."

We must fellowship those who walk in the light. We must not fellowship darkness.

What is Fellowship?

Fellowship means sharing. In Acts 2:44-45, we read,

"All the believers were together and had everything in common. They sold property and possessions to give to anyone who had need".

They shared everything. They did not consider their own belongings as belonging only to themselves.

Fellowship means giving and not just taking. We must make sacrifices for the sake of others. We read in Hebrews 13:16,

"And do not forget to do good and to share with others, for with such sacrifices God is pleased".

We all have a duty to make sure that our fellow believers have food and clothing,

"Suppose a brother or sister is without clothes and daily food. If one of you says to them, "Go in peace; keep warm and well fed," but does nothing about their physical needs, what good is it? In the same way, faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead" (James 2:15-17).

The ecclesia is a place where the basic needs for food and clothing can be met. The ecclesia needs to know the needs of its members so that these needs can be met.

When someone sins

When a brother or sister sins, it is important that sin is recognized as sin by the sinner. This is necessary if there is to be repentance by the sinner. Sin takes them away from God (Isaiah 59:2, Psalm 5:4). It is the duty of the ecclesia to ensure that a sinner is restored (Galatians 6:1-4, James 5:15, 20) by bringing the sinner to repentance (2 Corinthians 7:10, 2 Peter 3:9).

There are some sins which are considered so serious that consideration should be given to withdrawing our fellowship from them. The purpose of this is not to get rid of them, but to bring them to repentance.

Examples of this are incest (1 Corinthians 5), brothers deliberately not working (2 Thessalonians 3), divisive people (Titus 3:20, Romans 16:17-18) and false teachers (2 John 1, 2 Peter 2).

What is common to all these examples is that their sin can spread beyond the sinner. It can be copied and corrupt other brothers and sisters. In these cases, it is best to withdraw from the brother and sister so that no-one else is tempted to commit the same sin.

Matthew 18 gives an example on how to approach a sinner to bring them to repentance (Matthew 18:15-18). Firstly, this can be attempted by an individual. This should be done gently, considering that we are also tempted (Galatians 6:1). If this does not work, then two or three should try. If this does not work, then the ecclesia should try,

"If they still refuse to listen, tell it to the church, and if they refuse to listen even to the church, treat them as you would a pagan or a tax collector"
(Matthew 18:17).

That is, fellowship from them is withdrawn until they repent. We should not forget them forever. The aim is to lead them to repentance. Remember that we all need the mercy and forgiveness of God if we are to be in the kingdom. Sin disrupts the peace of the ecclesia. However, if it is dealt with in a loving way as described, then peace can be restored.

Conclusion

Being a member of a loving family with God and Jesus as part of it is a great place to live. We are not alone in our lives, and we are together to help each other get to the kingdom. We will end with the words of 1 John 1:3-4,

"We proclaim to you what we have seen and heard, so that you also may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is with the Father and with his son, Jesus Christ. We write this to make our joy complete".

Lesson 22: Prayer

Prayer pleases God,

"The Lord detests the sacrifice of the wicked, but the prayer of the upright pleases him" (Proverbs 15:8).

So prayer is not just something that Christians can do if they want to. It is much more than that. It is something God wants us to do as part of living as Christians,

"Then Jesus told his disciples a parable to show that they should always pray and not give up" (Luke 18:1).

So if we want to please God and Jesus, we should have an active prayer life and keep it active.

Christians were people who were known as people who prayed frequently. In the early days of Christianity, we read in Acts 2:42 that,

"They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer".

Prayer was a very important part of being a faithful Christian and part of communal life together. We should pray because it works. A key verse is from James 5:16:

"Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous man is powerful and effective."

The Psalms says a similar thing,

"and call on me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you will honour me" (Psalm 50:15).

God wants to be prayed to when we are in trouble. If we are delivered from our trouble, then we can give thanks to God.

We could spend our lives without praying to God. But why should we not have God as our helper by our side during our life? We don't need to bear our troubles alone. If we pray, we can imagine God as being at our own right side in our life.

The Need to listen to God first

There is a simple rule in prayer - if we want God to listen to us, then we must first listen to Him,

"When I called, they did not listen; so when they called, I would not listen," says the Lord Almighty" (Zechariah 7:13).

If we don't listen to God, then why should God listen to us?

We read in Proverbs 28:9,

"If anyone turns a deaf ear to my instruction, even their prayers are detestable".

A believer must show he is a believer by hearing and obeying God's word. If he chooses to ignore God in Scripture, then his prayers too will be ignored by God.

How to Pray

The importance of prayer was really given full expression when the Temple of God was set up by Solomon. Solomon got down on his knees, raised his hands and offered a wonderful prayer that would help all believers of his day. God replied directly to this prayer:

"the Lord appeared to him at night and said: "I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself as a temple for sacrifices. When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command locusts to devour the land or send a plague among my people, if my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and I will forgive their sin and will heal the land. Now my eyes will be open and my ears attentive to the prayers offered in this place. I have chosen and consecrated this temple so that my Name may be there for ever. My eyes and my heart will always be there" (2 Chron 7:12-16).

When they were in trouble because of sin, and they repented, then God would hear their prayer. Notice that the way the people prayed to Him was important. They were to humble themselves and turn from their wicked ways. If they were not to humble and turn, then it is likely that these prayers would not be heard. In contrast the prayer of the righteous would be powerful and effective.

If we pray to God in the name of Jesus, then God listens to our prayers because of Jesus. Jesus is the righteous man who can help our own prayers become effective. So Jesus tells us to pray in his name,

"In that day you will no longer ask me anything. Very truly I tell, my Father will give you whatever you ask in my name. Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you will receive, and your joy will be complete" (John 16:23-24).

So we offer our prayers in the name of Jesus because this makes them more effective.

It is because we pray in the name of Jesus that we should not be afraid of approaching God. We are told to be bold in prayer,

"Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has ascended into heaven, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to empathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are – yet he did not sin. Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need" (Hebrews 4:14-16).

A Model Prayer

When Jesus taught his disciples to pray, he gave them a brief prayer (Mat 6:9-13, Luke 11:2-4). This prayer started with things about God and included things about self. We can see these things below:

Our Father in heaven –	the title of address to God in our prayer.
Hallowed by your name –	things of God – 1
Your kingdom come –	things of God - 2

Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven –	things of God – 3
Give us today our daily bread –	things of man – 1
Forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors –	things of man – 2
And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil –	things of man - 3

In this prayer, God comes first and man second. We are to pray for the things we really need – daily food, forgiveness and protection from evil. These are the things that really matter. The prayer is not about selfish goals or praying for material things. It is not “I” centred. It tries to see life from God’s point of view and prays from that perspective. God’s name must be honoured when we pray.

Jesus says that whatever happens in answer to his prayer, it is God’s will that should be done. When Jesus was about to be killed, he still prayed “Your will be done” (Matthew 26:39, 42). When we pray, we must also pray that God’s will be done, rather than our own. We should be content with whatever God’s will is in our lives.

One of the most important things to do in prayer is to not stop the habit of praying. Jesus spoke two parables with this specific lesson. The first is about a bad judge who only cared about himself. A widow was able to irritate him by her persistent requests (Luke 18:1-8). Eventually the judge was worn out and he granted the widows request. The parable challenges us to try and wear God out with our repeated requests. But we will not succeed. God continues to listen to the prayers of His people, and we must continue to pray. This is the point - “they should always pray and not give up”.

Attitude

Our attitude when praying is important. When praying with others, we should avoid anger and disputes beforehand, “Therefore I want the men everywhere to pray, lifting up holy hands without anger or disputing” (1 Timothy 2:8).

Paul continues to talk about the role of men and women and says that women,

“I do not permit a woman to teach or to assume authority over a man: she must be silent” (1 Timothy 2:12).

It is clear that this means that women should not be giving the communal prayers.

There are dangers in the offering of communal prayers. The main danger is turning the prayer into a performance in order to demonstrate how spiritual one is to others listening. Jesus said,

“And when you pray, do not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the street corners to be seen by others. Truly I tell you, they have received their reward in full” (Matthew 6:5).

These “show prayers” may impress man, but they do not impress God. Our holy prayers should not be misused to impress one another.

The attitude we should have in prayer is described in Isaiah,

“These are the ones I look on with favour: those who are humble and contrite in spirit, and who tremble at my word” (Isaiah 66:2).

Humility and obedience to God's word are the keys to the way we should talk to God.

When praying, it is about our attitude and way of life that is important. It is not about how clever we are with words or how educated we are or how much scripture we can remember. The qualifications for one to give a communal prayer are humility and one who listens carefully to God's word.

Prayer is really about having a relationship with God. For an active relationship with God, we need to talk to Him in prayer often. You cannot have an active relationship with someone you never talk to. This would be a one-sided relationship. We also need to listen to God. We need to read His words in the Bible regularly.

Having an active prayer life is necessary to have an active relationship with God. So let us pray, pray often and never stop praying.

Lesson 23: The Family

God made the one man and one woman and gave them the ability to have children. God designed the family from the beginning.

We are all from families. It is important that we understand our roles within our family so that we can live in a way that is acceptable to God.

The marriage unit is the centre of the family. Marriage is a blessing from God,

"He who finds a wife finds what is good and receives favour from the Lord"
(Proverbs 18:22).

Jesus and the apostle Paul endorsed the Genesis basis for marriage and quoted from the original passage in Genesis 2:24:

"That is why a man will leave his father and mother and is united to his wife, and they become one flesh."

In Genesis 2:20 we are told that the woman was to be made as a "help in front of" Adam, as the Hebrew words literally mean. She was to help him in his life before God. She was not the same as man and had a different role.

The woman came from the man himself. So man was to think of his wife as part of himself and to care for the woman in the way that he would care for his own flesh. Ephesians 5:28-29 & 33 brings this out,

"In this same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. After all, no one ever hated their own body, but they feed and care for their body, just as Christ does the church...However, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband".

Husbands must love their wives as their own bodies. He feeds and cares for the wife like his own body. Ephesians 5:25-27 tells us that husbands must love their wife just as Christ loved the church,

"Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her to make her holy, cleansing her by the washing with water through the word, and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless."

We are given a beautiful description of marriage in Ecclesiastes 9:9,

"Enjoy life with your wife, whom you love all the days of this meaningless life that God has given you under the sun".

This picture is also in Proverbs (5:18),

"May your fountain be blessed, and may you rejoice in the wife of your youth."

We note the words "wife of your youth". Marriage is designed to be a life-long commitment. As Jesus said,

"So they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore what God has joined together, let no one separate" (Matthew 19:6).

Malachi brings out God's opinion emphatically,

"I hate divorce" (Mal 2:16).

Marriage is a Spiritual Pattern

Marriage is a pattern of the relationship between Christ and the church. Just as Christ does not cast off his church, so the husband must not cast off the wife. Paul tells us, "For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, of which he is the saviour" (Ephesians 5:23).

Just as Christ provides leadership to the church, so the man provides headship in the marriage. The husband is not to rule the wife harshly,

"Husbands, love your wives and do not be harsh to them" (Colossians 3:19).

They were to be considerate if they want their prayers heard,

"Husbands, in the same way be considerate as you live with your wives, and treat them with respect as the weaker partner and as heirs with you of the gracious gift of life, so that nothing will hinder your prayers" (1 Peter 3:7).

Man may be stronger and the head, but he was not to take advantage of his position, just as Christ did not take advantage of his position.

A key element of the role of the wife is her submissive behaviour to her husband. This is reiterated many times in the Old and New Testaments. She submits just as the church submits to Christ,

"Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything" (Ephesians 5:24).

We read in 1 Peter 3:7 that wives are "fellow-heirs of the grace of life" with their husbands. They were both to live in faith. One way they live in this faith is to carry out the roles given to them in marriage.

If a husband has an unbelieving wife, then he should teach her and love her so he can win her for Christ.

If a wife has an unbelieving husband, then she should submit to him and by her meek behaviour she may win him for Christ.

Children

A marriage may be blessed with children. For example,

"Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house; your children will be like olive shoots around your table" (Psalms 128:3).

Children are to be brought up in a godly household so that they become godly. Speaking of the unity of marriage and how this helps children it says in,

"Has not the one God made you? You belong to him in body and spirit. And what does the one God seek? Godly offspring. So be on your guard, and do not be unfaithful to the wife of your youth" (Malachi 2:15).

A child's attitude to its parents is covered by one of the 10 commandments,

"Honour your father and your mother, so that you may live long in the land the Lord your God is giving you" (Exodus 20:12).

This command is repeated in the New Testament. Honouring father and mother is a critical step in keeping the family of God faithful and united.

Honour includes respect. Leviticus 19:3 highlights this,

"Each of you must respect his mother and father."

Another way to honour one's parents is by listening and obeying them,

"Listen, my son, to your father's instruction and do not forsake your mother's teaching. They are a garland to grace your head and a chain to adorn your neck" (Proverbs 1:8-9).

"Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right" (Ephesians 6:1).

Parents must teach their children the ways of God.

"Only be careful, and watch yourselves closely so that you do not forget the things your eyes have seen or let them fade from your heart as long as you live. Teach them to your children and to their children after them". Note that this command is not just for parents to teach their children. It also requires grandparents to teach their grandchildren" (Deuteronomy 4:9).

Teaching children is part of helping the next generation. There is the critical need to pass on the teaching of God to the next generation, otherwise faith will die and our children will not be saved.

The Family

Let us put the laws about children together.

The parents must teach the child about God and children must listen to their parents. In that way God is ensuring that faith is passed onto the next generation. One generation must teach and the next must listen. Proverbs 22:6 says,

"Start children off on the way they should go, and even when they are old they will not turn from it".

But it goes further. The grandparents must teach their grandchildren. In this way, 2 parents and 4 grandparents are teaching the same children about God.

Not only that. Since grandchildren are honouring their parents, they also honour them by honouring their parent's parents. In other words, children must listen to both their parents and grandparents. God is making very sure that faith is passed onto the next generation.

Parents discipline their children as part of their upbringing. When a father does this, he must be wise,

"Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

The honouring of father and mother continues throughout life, even when the children become adults. says;

"Listen to your father , who gave you life, and do not despise your mother when she is old" (Proverbs 23:22).

We are told that children are required to look after their parents in old age and so repay the care that they had received when they were young (1 Timothy 5:4). The need to do this is critical,

"Anyone who does not provide for his relatives, and especially for their own household, has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever"
(1 Timothy 5:8).

In summary, all members in a family have a role they must live up to. These roles are for husbands, wives, parents, children and grandparents. By living up to these roles, families can be happy, spiritual and harmonious. In that way they will be blessed. May God bless you and your family as you try to live according to these roles.

Lesson 24: Politics, voting and joining the army/police

God is in control of this world. He is in control of this world's rulers and their politics.

"The Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will and sets over it the lowliest of men" (Daniel 4:17).

The people God wants to be in power will be in power. He is working out his divine purpose through them, even if they are evil.

If Christians vote, they could be supporting someone God does not want in power. Of course, God needs no help from us in choosing leaders.

There can only be one wise choice for a world leader – Jesus. The Lord Jesus is the world's future king,

"The Son of Man (Jesus) will sit on his glorious throne" (Matthew 19:28).

And the faithful are those who will help Jesus rule in this future kingdom,

"If we endure, we will also reign with him in his coming kingdom on earth" (2 Timothy 2:12).

Politics and Warfare

Jesus was never involved in either politics or protests. He had a simple principle,

"My kingdom is not of this world" (John 18:36).

Jesus made it clear that we need to be different from the world,

"I have given them your word and the world has hated them, for they are not of the world any more than I am of the world. My prayer is not that you take them out of the world but that you protect them from the evil one. They are not of the world, even as I am not of it" (John 17:14-16).

We live in the world, but we must not be like the people of the world, just as Jesus was not like the people of the world.

Every country has its own army so that it can fight enemies. This is against the teaching of God. Christians are told to love our enemies. Christian cannot shoot an enemy and say that they love them! The military and police service will use violence if they believe it is necessary.

Jesus was trying to change the world for the better, but he did not do it through politics. He was concerned about the people's spiritual condition. He left politics to the leaders of his day. Even though Jesus was unjustly treated by the government, he did not protest. He was never in conflict with the Roman authorities.

When Jesus was on trial for his life, he did not show any resistance. He set the example on how to behave. Jesus said,

"love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you" (Matthew 5:44).

Jesus was a man of peace. His followers must do the same:

"strive for peace with everyone" (Hebrews 12:14).

"if possible, so far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all" (Romans 12:18).

"if when you do good and suffer for it you endure; this is a gracious thing in the sight of God. For to this you have been called, because Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example, so that you might follow in his steps" (1 Peter 2:20,21).

Christians must learn contentment, not protest,

"I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content" (Philippians 4:11).

The writer was in prison potentially facing death when he wrote that!

The Christian attitude to World Governments

All these scriptures show us what a Christian's attitude towards authority must be:

"Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore, whoever resists authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgement" (Romans 13:1-2).

All authorities are appointed by God. To disobey the rulers of your country is to disobey God. Instead. Christians are,

"to be submissive to rulers and authorities; to be obedient; to be ready for every good work; to speak evil of no one; to avoid quarrelling; to be gentle; and to show perfect courtesy toward all people" (Titus 3:1,2).

And,

"be subject for the Lord's sake to every human institution" (1 Peter 2:13).

One way that Christians are subject to human authorities is to pay taxes. When he was asked whether Jews should pay their taxes to the Romans Jesus said,

"Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's" (Luke 20:22-25).

But there is one exception and that is when man's rules are clearly against the commandments given by God,

"we must obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29).

The commands of God and Jesus Christ must always come first. For the same reason, Daniel's three friends refused to worship a golden image set up by a mighty king called Nebuchadnezzar on threat of death (Daniel 3:18).

There are many other examples where the attitudes and behaviours of the leadership of a country are different from those of God. The leaders of the world do not think like God. Sometimes the state will disagree with the Christian way. Christians must then accept any punishment which may come from obeying "God rather than men".

Citizens of God's Kingdom

The manifesto of God is very different from the manifesto of men. God's manifesto is what He says about the Kingdom of God. God's Kingdom is not like the current kingdoms of this world. Jesus told Pilate, the leading politician of his country,

"Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jewish leaders. But now my kingdom is from another place" (John 18:36).

This kingdom will not be based on violence and greed. A Christian should not mix the kingdoms.

The kingdom of God is collecting its citizens now. It is the faithful,

"But our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Saviour from there, the Lord Jesus Christ" (Philippians 3:20).

We belong to a heavenly kingdom, that is, a godly kingdom. We are waiting for Jesus to return from heaven and set it up on earth. It will replace the kingdoms of the world. We do not belong to the kingdoms of this world. We belong to the kingdom of God.

We are told we should live like strangers in the country we live in. This was how Abraham lived. Even though God promised him the land of Canaan, he lived like a foreigner. So must we,

"Dear friends, I urge you, as aliens and strangers in the world, to abstain from sinful desires, which war against your souls" (1 Peter 2:11).

Just like a foreigner does not get involved in the politics of the country, so Christians should not get involved in politics.

Summary Content of Lesson 24: Politics, Voting and joining the Army/Police

- 1 God chooses who are the rulers of this world. He does not need help in choosing them.
- 2 Jesus did not get involved in politics or protest. He said his kingdom was not like those of this world.
- 3 Christians should pay taxes, submit to the authorities and honour the rulers of this world.
- 4 Where there is a difference with what God wants and what man wants, we should obey God.
- 5 We must love our enemies, so we cannot get involved in the army or the police force.

Revision Questions on Lesson 24: Politics, Voting and joining the Army/Police

- 2 Is it OK for a Christian to vote for world governments? Why?
- 3 Who is the ruler we want to govern?

Next Steps

In this course, you have learnt what a Christian needs to know and what a Christian needs to do. You are now ready for the next step.

You must be ready for the kingdom of God. This means you need to repent and be baptised. Baptism is the starting point of being a Christian. Baptism removes all your past sins. Your life becomes linked to Jesus. It is a commitment to change from the old ways of the world to the new way of Christ. When you are baptised, you will become born again and become part of God's family,

"Yet to all who received him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God" (John 1:12).

Baptism changes our destiny from one where death is a permanent outcome to one where our destiny is life, through the resurrection from the dead. A person changes from being alone in the world to one where God gives His special care and protection, and where the believer has a new family of spiritual brothers and sisters. There is every benefit from being baptised.

Baptism is a life-long commitment. It is no good starting and then deciding to stop. As Jesus said,

"No man who puts a hand to the plough and looks back is fit for service in the kingdom of God" (Luke 9:62).

Once you have made the decision to follow Christ, you need to speak to your tutor or another Christadelphian on how to be baptised. They will explain how this can happen.

You may wish to learn more before you decide to be baptised. If so, then speak to your tutor or another Christadelphian to discuss this further. We do not pressurise you into being baptised, because this is a personal choice. However, if you are ready for baptism, you should not delay.

If you have made the decision to be baptised, you must start behaving like Jesus. You need to begin an active prayer life, praying several times daily. You must start reading and thinking about God's word in the Bible daily. You must think about what Jesus would do and say in every situation. You must try to act like Jesus.

Your decision to follow Christ brings pleasure to God, the angels, and to other believers,

"I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents" (Luke 15:10).

There are other believers like you. These are your new spiritual family - your new brothers and sisters in Christ. Christadelphians refer to their fellow believers as 'brother' or 'sister.' You need to live as part of this family by meeting with them at your nearest ecclesia. Your tutor or another Christadelphian can help you contact your nearest Christadelphian ecclesia.

Christadelphians use the word 'ecclesia' rather than 'church' because that is word used in the New Testament. It refers to the people who make up the ecclesia. The word 'church' is used to refer to the church building. God is not concerned with buildings but with the people who follow Him.

There are many things we should do as we begin a new life in Christ. We need to think and behave differently from how we lived before. There is another course to help you do this, which is designed especially for the newly baptised. It is called 'Growing into Christ.' We recommend that you do this once you are baptised.

We will finish with the blessing used on God's people which we wish for you:

"The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make his face shine upon you and be gracious to you; the Lord turn his face towards you and give you peace."
(Numbers 6:24-26).
